Boy's complaint brings lawsuit by price panel

WEST BABYLON, N.Y. (AP) — Antoinette Malachowsky learned last April from her son John, now 13, that he planned to complain to the Price Commission about the four-cent increase in the cost of paint for his model airplanes and rockets.

She promptly told him, "John, I wouldn't bother."

But John, whose $2 weekly allowance was feeling the pinch, replied, "I'm going to do it."

The eighth-grader's complaint resulted Tuesday in a $150,000 suit by the Justice Department against Testor Corp. of Rockford, Ill., a hobby products manufacturer.

The complaint against Testor alleges that last March 1 the company increased its price on Pla Enamel 26 per cent, from 15 cents to 19 a jar, and on Spray Pla Enamel 14 per cent, from 69 cents to 79 a can, on April 1, in violation of price control regulations under the economic stabilization program.

An official of Testor, operations manager Charles Miller, said the firm followed Price Commission guidelines in raising prices and that the increase was the first for the paint in 20 years.

Young John, who has been constructing plastic model airplanes since he was eight and models with engines since he was 10, said he was "really surprised" by the government's action.

"It just didn't seem like they'd go through the trouble of prosecuting a case over four cents," he said.

The suit in U.S. District Court in Chicago seeks restitution, through lowering of prices as long as necessary to refund the estimated $150,000 in excess charges to Testor customers. It also seeks a penalty of $2,500 for each violation of the Economic Stabilization Act. Also named in the suit was Jupiter Industries of Chicago, 80 per cent owner of Testor.

3 Americans crash victims

By STEPHENS BROENING

MOSCOW (AP) — Three Americans were among 61 persons killed in the crash of a Japanese airliner as it was taking off from Moscow for Japan Tuesday night, Japan Air Lines announced today.

JAL said 14 Japanese and a New Zealander survived the crash and were being treated at Moscow hospitals.

A 16th survivor was reported earlier but a check of hospitals produced only 15 persons. The airline said the 16th person was missing and presumed dead.

The Americans were listed as C. Gerbic, M. Brettler and Sackheim. The airline said Brettler and Sackheim boarded the flight in Copenhagen and Gerbic boarded in Moscow.

Brettler was believed to be Monroe S. Brettler, president of the Brettler International Sales Corp. of New York, who a Japanese firm in Nagoya said was expected on the flight.

A U.S. Embassy official reported earlier that two Americans survived, but this proved to be erroneous.

The four-engine DC8 was on a trans-Siberian flight from Copenhagen to Tokyo. It had climbed to about 400 feet after taking off, then plunged downward and crashed about 150 yards from the end of a runway at Sheremetyevo airport.

The surviving New Zealander, Eldridge B. Smith, 42, said one of the starboard engines burst into flames just before the plane started down, the airline reported.

The plane's pilot was Tomomasa Nozue, 35, a veteran of more than 5,000 flight hours. He died in the crash, JAL said.

Japanese government aviation experts, a medical team and JAL President Shizuo Asada flew to Moscow today to help in the investigation of the crash.

It was the second major airline crash at the Moscow airport in six weeks. An Ilyushin 62 operated by Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, crashed on Oct. 13 as it was landing in bad weather, and 176 persons were killed. It was the worst crash in aviation history.

P.J. Brennan Nixon labor post choice

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Nixon made a surprise announcement today that he will nominate Peter J. Brennan, leader of "hardhat" union members in New York, to be secretary of Labor.

Described by the White House as a lifelong Democrat, Brennan campaigned actively for Nixon's re-election and, in that connection, was in frequent contact with presidential political operative Charles Colson.

Brennan, if confirmed by the Senate, would be the first labor secretary out of union ranks since Chicago plumber Martin Durkin held the post in the first months of the Eisenhower administration.

For the past 15 years Brennan has been president of a New York City and State Building and Construction Trades Council. He started his working life as a painter.

Brennan would succeed James D. Hodgson who has been secretary of Labor since July 1, 1970.

Ohio 'disaster area', Harsha tells Butts

Congressman William H. Harsha, of Ohio's 6th District, has requested Agriculture Secretary Earl Butts to declare Ohio a disaster area because of the inability of farmers to harvest their crops due to severe weather conditions.

In a letter issued by Congressman Harsha to Secretary Butts Tuesday night, Harsha said: "Heavy rainfall has dealt a severe blow to crop harvesting in Ohio over the past several weeks. Conditions have reached such alarming proportions that at this time only 40 per cent of the corn and soybean crops have been harvested.

"Because of the gravity of this situation, I am deeply concerned that heavy crop losses can only bring severe financial hardship to Ohio's farmers, particularly those of the 6th Congressional District."

He continued, "In view of the serious crop damage many of them have already sustained, I strongly urge you to declare the State of Ohio a disaster area and to make available through the Farmer's Home Administration the emergency relief and assistance they vitally need."

Emergency loans would be available through the FHA to farmers qualifying with severe losses if the state is declared a disaster area, a spokesman for Congressman Harsha told The Record-Herald Wednesday morning.

The emergency loans would help farmers meet their expenses, taxes and sending their children to school. The first $5,000 or the extent of the losses, whichever is the lesser amount, would be cancelled from the loan.

The Farmer's Home Administration would individually tailor each loan to the farmer's need on application.

Face-to-face talk with Nixon?

Thieu wants summit meet

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu is asking President Nixon to meet with him to discuss face-to-face the problems of achieving a Vietnam peace settlement, diplomatic sources said today.

Diplomatic and South Vietnamese sources said the proposal would be presented to Nixon later today by Nguyen Phu Duc, sent by Thieu to Washington to meet with the U.S. President.

There was no official comment from the presidential palace or the foreign ministry. But earlier in the day Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam told newsmen who asked if the two presidents might meet:

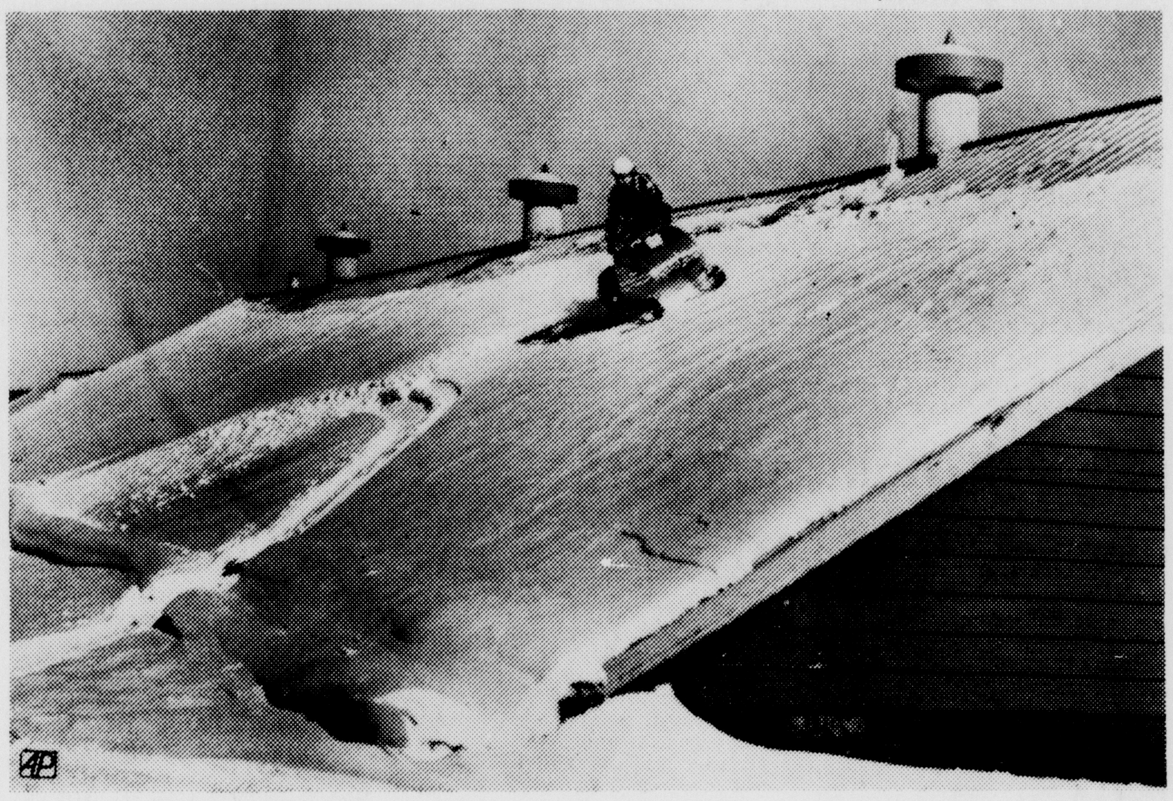

"This summit meeting between the two leaders at any moment is always necessary in order to coordinate their policies. And I think it is always necessary for them to meet. It depends on the schedule of the two leaders, whether they have the time. But there's nothing planned at this moment."

South Vietnamese sources said Duc would propose the summit meeting be held in December and that it take up the postwar shape of Indochina in addition to discussing a peace settlement.

No site for the proposed meeting was mentioned. Previous U.S.-Vietnamese summit meetings have been held in Honolulu and Manila.

For the past week, both the official Saigon radio and the newspaper Tin Song, which is controlled by the presidential palace, have been indicating that Thieu wants to put his case before Nixon personally.

Thieu has been reported distrustful of the efforts of U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, who has been negotiating cease-fire terms with the North Vietnamese in Paris and who conferred with Thieu in Saigon in August and again in October.

Hanoi claims district town wiped out

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers kept up their heavy attack on both sides of the demilitarized zone today, and Hanoi charged that raids on Monday virtually wiped out a district town in North Vietnam.

The civilian death toll from a mistaken U.S. bombing attack Tuesday 15 miles south of Da Nang rose to 21, the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported. Another 23 civilians were reported wounded and 80 homes destroyed or badly damaged. The U.S. Command said the attack by six American jets is under investigation.

About 50 B52s pounded North Vietnamese supply caches, staging areas and troop concentrations on both sides of the DMZ, the U.S. Command said.

Field reports said heavy monsoon rains had slowed ground fighting in Quang Tri province, where South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers are trying to widen their territorial control. The Saigon command said 13 North Vietnamese and three government troops were killed in clashes Tuesday to the north and south of Quang Tri City, and 12 government troops were wounded.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency claimed that a B52 attack on Monday "destroyed almost all the schools, hospital and houses of the people" in the town of Muong Xen, in central Nghe An Province.

Radio Hanoi also claimed that a U.S. A6 fighter-bomber was shot down Tuesday in Thanh Hoa Province, just below the 20th parallel. It made no mention of the fate of the two crewmen.

The U.S. Command reported that a Navy A6 crashed into the Tonkin Gulf Tuesday after a mechanical failure while taking off from the carrier Saratoga en route to a bombing mission. The Command said one man was rescued about 80 miles east of Dong Hoi, but the second crewman was missing and believed killed.

Richardson to bring new Pentagon leadership style

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson will bring a new style of leadership to the Pentagon as secretary of Defense as well as a new management team in what is certain to be a wholesale reshuffling of top defense officials.

Aside from the immediate problems of the new budget and the old war, one of the first tasks facing the new secretary will be to rebuild the Pentagon leadership from the top down.

Richardson, now secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is likely to draw on his present staff when he moves across the Potomac River from HEW on Jan. 20. Among them is likely to be Jonathan Moore, 39, said to be Richardson's alter ego at HEW and himself a former Pentagon official under Robert McNamara.

There will be a number of key jobs to fill as several officials, some holdovers from the Johnson administration who agreed to stay on under Melvin Laird, have already indicated a desire to leave.

Richardson will have help from two deputy secretaries, one responsible for procurement and management and the other for international affairs and relations with the National Security Council. Traditionally there has been one deputy, now Kenneth Rush. A second was approved by Congress earlier this year, although the post was not filled.

Rush, 62, former ambassador to West Germany, had been mentioned as a possible successor to Laird and is not likely to remain at the Pentagon. He may go to the State Department as undersecretary, a job held by Richardson before he took the HEW post in 1970.

The Pentagon is the largest bureaucracy in the world with its 2.3 million military personnel and 1.1 million civilian employes. The 110,000 Defense Department employes who are scheduled to be trimmed from the rolls next year equals the total number employed by HEW.

Running the Pentagon is conceded to be the toughest job in Washington next to the presidency. Laird has said he took it only because no one else wanted it. He agreed to stay only four years.

Community Chest half way to goal

With $16,184.85 contributed in cash and pledges, the Fayette County Community Chest was half way to its $32,000 goal Wednesday. The three-phase campaign got under way Oct. 1.

Chest officials admittedly were concerned over the slow progress being made this year. They pointed out that if the campaign falls short, it is the organizations, which depend largely on the Community Chest for support of their programs, that will suffer. Their budgets, which are trimmed drastically before the campaign started, would have to be reduced still more, they said, and added this would mean their programs would have to be greatly cut back.

The most recent bright spots in the campaign were the responses of the Landmark employé groups (exclusive of the feed mill), whose 40 employes contributed $314.30 for an average of $7.85 each and by the 56 employes of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. who gave $520 for an average of $9.30 each.

Sixteen of approximately 40 employe groups remain to be heard from. Chest officials have said often that the employe groups are the backbone of the campaign.

Meanwhile, the canvass of the city's business district and the house-to-house residential solicitation continue to lag, officials said. Both got off to a tardy start, they commented, but hopefully are now beginning to move.

West Point military ghost just Navy skullduggery

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A Naval Academy midshipman says the ghost which has been appearing in a West Point dormitory this fall is nothing more than a hoax he helped to pull off in advance of the Army-Navy football game.

William Gravell, a midshipman officer and member of the brigade staff at Annapolis, told newsmen Tuesday he fashioned the trick with the aid of a flashlight, some cheesecloth and a photographic slide.

It was all designed, he said, to "make the Army look stupid."

"I wanted something they wouldn't be able to pin on us, but something that with the tradition-bound atmosphere they have at West Point they would readily swallow. Well, they fell for it — fell much further than I would have imagined."

The West Point ghost story began this fall when two plebes reported that on several occasions an apparition of a 19th century cavalryman, wearing a handle-bar moustache and carrying a musket, had appeared in their room.

The resulting stir caused the military academy to put the room off limits with a spokesman explaining that "there was too much traffic. Their fellow cadets were bringing in cameras and tape recorders, and the occupants weren't getting any studying done."

According to Gravell, he and another midshipman, who would not allow his name to be revealed, journeyed to West Point several times to bring the ghost to life.

Death penalty vote due soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A measure to retain the death penalty while still possibly meeting U.S. Supreme Court restrictions passed a Senate committee Tuesday and headed for a floor vote, possibly next week.

The House State Government Committee, meanwhile, postponed, at least until today, action on a resolution that would pave the way for a statewide vote in May on a state lottery.

Both houses of the "lame duck" 109th General Assembly were scheduled to meet at 1:30 p.m. today, then recess until next week. Some committee meetings will be held prior to the recess.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, by a 7-0 vote, recommended passage of a criminal code revision bill that would allow Ohio to retain the death penalty on a restricted basis.

Under the bill, persons charged with murder would stand trial before a jury to determine guilt or innocence and whether there was one or more of nine "aggravating" factors involved in the crime.

If a guilty verdict was returned with aggravation found, a three-judge panel would then determine if one or more of three "mitigating" factors was involved. If they found no mitigating factors, the death penalty would be mandatory.

Rep. Alan Norris, R-59 Westerville, main sponsor of the measure, warned that the Senate version may not set too well with the House. He said the concept of splitting a trial into two parts had earlier been rejected in the lower chamber as "to cumbersome."

Sen. Max Dennis, R-10 Wilmington, the committee chairman, who was earlier rebuffed in his effort to abolish capital punishment, said the measure approved was aimed at getting around the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision.

The court, earlier this year, said capital punishment, with certain exceptions, represented "cruel and unusual punishment" and violated the U.S. Constitution.

Christmas gifts to be searched

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas gift packages that travelers carry aboard planes during the holiday season may be opened and searched as an antihijacking measure, airline officials say.

Many flights are expected to be delayed and tempers ruffled by the inspection of millions of packages for smuggled weapons during one of the peak air travel periods, the officials said Tuesday.

They said reservations agents are urging travelers to check gifts along with their regular luggage, in which case the packages won't be opened, or to carry the gifts aboard without Christmas wrapping.

An estimated nine million passengers will be carried between Dec. 22 and Jan. 1, and in the end the crush may limit searches to spot checks, some airline sources predicted.

Ohio's income tax take surges

By DAVID TOMLIN
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tax officials have been worrying all year that they expected too much from the state income tax, but revenues have increased so sharply since election day they think their worries are over.

Ohio Tax Commissioner Robert Kosydar believes many individuals and even some small corporations were holding back their tax payments in hopes voters would repeal the income tax Nov. 7, even though they would have been liable for 1972 taxes anyway.

But Ohioans overwhelmingly endorsed continuation of the .5 to 3 per cent personal and 1 to 8 per cent corporation income taxes, and the result has been a dramatic increase in payments this month.

"It's more than you really can believe," Kosydar said. "We were running way behind in our revenues in terms of what should have been filed, and it was really concerning us.

"We wondered if our estimates were behind or our figures were wrong. But it turns out they were just about right," he said.

Most Ohioans don't have the option of holding back their income tax payments, since they're withheld automatically from their paychecks. But a substantial number have income not subject to withholding.

People in this situation are required to make quarterly installments on their expected tax share, and payments in this category were running way behind what the state estimated they should have been. Now, Kosydar says, they are approaching predictions.

Kosydar said receipts were running about $10 million behind the estimates through October. This month alone they are $7 million ahead, which leaves a $3 million deficit to be made up in December.

"I expect we'll be right on the mark through December," Kosydar said. He said revenue in calendar 1972 will be about $350 million for the personal income tax and $260 million from corporations.

CAC receiving $92,500 grant

The Fayette County Community Action Commission will receive a grant of $92,500 to carry on its administration and program of activities, starting March 1 of next year.

Rep. William H. Harsha, who represents this sixth district in Congress, announced Tuesday that the grant by the Office of Economic Opportunity had been approved.

The basic grant of $92,500 is an increase of $7,500 over last year's $85,000. However, an additional grant of $25,000 was received last year for the family health planning clinic conducted by the county Health Department, bringing the total to $110,000, Jack Hagerty, who directs the CAC program here, explained.

Last year, the CAC program included the family health planning clinic; a job program for low-income high school youth; a homemaker health program, under the direction of Mrs. Edna Naylor, and a community development program for five low income areas in the city and county.

The grant this year, Hagerty said, will provide for the retention of last year's programs and, in addition, a program for the aged. A supplemental grant of $10,000 for the family health planning clinic conducted by the Health Department also has been approved, Hagerty said.

Murderers better risks for parole?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Murderers are better parole risks than the general run of criminals, the National Council on Crime and Delinquency has reported.

The council, sponsoring a two-day conference of 55 parole agencies, said Monday that its team which conducted a five-year research program now has a national research population of 6,903 paroled killers on which to base its parole findings.

Ohio income tax

has meant an extra load of work for a department Kosydar maintains is already understaffed, but he said the real manpower problems will begin in January when individuals start filing returns.

"We expect 4 million returns to be filed in January," Kosydar said. "It's a simple return, just a card. But like any new return there will be questions."

Kosydar said he's arranging for state officials to be present in all 88 Ohio county courthouses and in municipal buildings to help taxpayers with problems.

For the extra work in Columbus, Kosydar says he's been hiring temporary help in peak periods and shuffling full-time personnel around to keep ahead of the crush.

"It's kind of hectic, but we've been managing so far," he said.

"We will have to reallocate our resources between January and April," he added. "We'll have to hold back in sales and property taxes, but there shouldn't be any loss of revenues those areas. It's just that some audits will be delayed."

Kosydar said he has been talking with Gov. John Gilligan about adding more people to the Department of Taxation staff.

He said Gilligan was especially interested in beefing up enforcement of corporation taxes.

"The governor feels that if individuals have their income tax withheld, then we ought to make a special effort to see that corporations pay their fair share," Kosydar said.

"We really haven't had the personnel to do this adequately up to now," he added. "The governor feels very strongly about this."

Ash to have little impact on budget for next year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The appointment of Roy L. Ash as the new director of the Office of Management and Budget is unlikely to have any immediate or striking impact on the agency.

In fact, the 54-year-old California industrialist may have already reached a high point in his identification with OMB.

It was he who first recommended its creation as part of a governmental reorganization study for President Nixon's first term.

Now Ash will succeed present OMB director Caspar W. Weinberger, who is to become secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Ash told reporters that he will be more of an observer than anything else when key decisions are made on the fiscal 1974 budget, which will go to Congress in January. The document will outline Nixon's spending program from July 1973 to June 1974.

Weinberger, meantime, indicated that he will be working hard on the spending plans despite his nomination to HEW. He said OMB is expected to make recommendations by Thursday on how to hold spending in the current fiscal year to $250 billion.

He said spending for the current fiscal year is about $9 billion over that mark. Nixon plans to cut the budget as much as he can through withholding of appropriated money.

Ash declined comment on what policies he would follow as director of the OMB. He said he wanted time to get into the job before making policy statements.

But he indicated that his tenure will focus more on management than has been done in the past.

He said he will sell 200,000 shares of stock in Litton Industries and disengage himself formally from the shipbuilding firm on Dec. 9. He will become OMB director when Weinberger is confirmed as HEW secretary.

New budget chief's firm entangled in cost dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's new budget director heads a huge, financially troubled conglomerate which is trying to get $380 million from the federal government with claims the Navy says are unsubstantiated.

The newly named Cabinet-level official is Roy L. Ash, president of Litton Industries, once a leading glamour stock on Wall Street during the heyday of the conglomerates.

The company, which Ash co-founded nearly 20 years ago, now is struggling with delays and cost overruns on shipbuilding for the Navy. The difficulties helped plunge company earnings from $50 million in fiscal 1971 to $1.1 million in fiscal 1972. This year Litton's common stock price has fallen by more than half.

Litton has claimed the Navy should pay it $380 million for cancellation costs and design changes encountered in its construction of five giant helicopter assault ships.

The Navy said in September the claims were unsubstantiated, but it nonetheless continued an interim financing arrangement through February 1973. The original contract was for $666 million.

The Navy wrote Litton in June expressing concern "about Litton's ability to perform this contract even under your extended delivery schedule." It said the assault ship delays "could have a direct and potentially disastrous effect upon your ability to deliver the DD963 class destroyers" under a separate contract.

Litton's new automated shipyard at Pascagoula, Miss., has been plagued with difficulties in carrying out the Navy work.

Litton also has $168 million in three other shipbuilding claims pending before the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals.

The Congressional Joint Economic Committee, concerned about the shipbuilding deals, currently is investigating Litton.

Weinberger to wield axe instead of knife at HEW?

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of budget-minded Caspar Weinberger as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare signals hard times for the government's most expensive bureaucracy.

He undoubtedly shares the fat-trimming goals of President Nixon and outgoing HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson. Weinberger has been director of the Office of Management and Budget.

But where Richardson would have used a scalpel, top-ranking HEW officials fear Weinberger may wield an axe.

Earlier this month the President singled out HEW as a department he feels is "too fat, too bloated."

The HEW budget has been increasing at an average 15 per cent a year over the last decade, more than twice the rate of the Gross National Product. This fiscal year its spending is targeted at $78.9 billion, nearly one-third of all federal outlays and more than the defense budget for the first time in HEW's 19-year history.

Richardson set out to reform the system, cut the red tape surrounding more than 250 categorical programs and make them cost-effective.

However, he also sought to protect the welfare of his department's 110,000 employes.

When the White House ordered a 5 per cent slash in the federal payroll, the Office of Management and Budget, directed by Weinberg, set HEW's quota at 10,000.

Richardson won a major concession to make the cuts conditional on a pending transfer of several federal hospitals to local jurisdictions.

Weinberger, who can expect to face stiff congressional grilling in attempts to justify cuts in programs, has asked HEW Undersecretary John G. Veneman to stay. Veneman, the only ranking survivor of the stewardship of Robert Finch, Nixon's first HEW secretary, is regarded as a man with a golden touch in congressional relations.

Sub-zero cold hits Wyoming

Sub-zero temperatures put central Wyoming into a deep freeze early today as light snow swirled over the Northern states from the Rockies to New England.

Travel advisories were out for the mountains of eastern New York, all of Vermont and western Massachusetts.

Showers and thunderstorms marred fair weather in Florida, and extensive fog settled over the interior valleys of California and along the north Pacific Coast.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 7 below at Lander, Wyo., to 79 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Arrest man for posing as doctor

PARMA, Ohio (AP)—A 28-year-old member of the Parma Community Hospital medical staff has been arrested on charges of practicing medicine without a license.

Parma police said the man, Uday Vastantkamar Gupte, posed as a doctor in four northeastern Ohio communities over a two-year span by using the credentials of a doctor in New York City.

Ohio Medical Board investigator Leigh Wilson said Gupte posed as the New York doctor of the same name during jobs with the Euclid General Hospital, Richmond Heights General Hospital and the Trumbull County Memorial Hospital in Warren before going to work in Parma.

Wilson said Gupte was qualified to practice medicine in India, his native land where he went through medical school but that he failed medical tests required by the U.S.

Hospital officials indicated they were suprised to learn of the alleged deception. They described Gupte as "a very personable man."

"He was not a meatgrinder," one hospital administrator said. "He probably just couldn't pass those exams, and he decicded one way or another he was going to get here."

The other Dr. Gupte, contacted in New York, said he was angry about someone using his name and thinks "he should be put in jail."

Stock list goes lower

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices remained lower and drifting today as uncertainty over the Vietnam peace talks and profit-taking pressure kept investors on edge.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon EST was down 2.56 at 1016.78.

Declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by a slim margin.

"The market still seems to be consolidating its six-week advance," said Newton Zinder, analyst with E.F. Hutton Co.

Adding to investor uncertainties was the report that South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu planned to seek a meeting with President Nixon on the peace question, while the White House denied any meeting was planned.

The Big Board index at noon was down .13 at 63.57, and the American Stock Exchange price-change index was unchanged at 26.34.

Outlook bright for grain sales

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Prospects are bright for more trade between the U.S. and the Soviet Union, says Roswell Garst, the Iowa farmer who returned home last week after negotiating a deal with the Soviets to sell them hybrid grain sorghum seed.

Garst met Nikita Khrushchev when the late Soviet premier toured his farm in 1959 during a visit to the United States.

Garst said he saw in Russia a great effort taking place to boost livestock production, particularly cattle and hogs, and thus provide higher protein diets for the people of the USSR and Eastern Europe.

Burglary try

An apparent attempt was made to enter the Sugar Creek Baptist Church sometime overnight, but no entry was gained, sheriff's officers report.

Deputy Charles Wise discovered the burglary attempt while making a routine check of the U.S. 35-W church about 2 a.m. Wednesday. He said a door had been pried open but the intruder apparently never entered the building.

Officers also made an emergency blood run for Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning. They met a Franklin County cruiser at the Pickaway - Franklin County line and relayed the blood from the Columbus Blood Bank to Memorial Hospital.

State sewer fund shares not enough?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio cities are to get $306.8 million in federal funds to build sewers and sewage treatment plants between now and 1974, but Ohio Environmental Protection Agency chief Ira Whitman says it's not enough.

The money is Ohio's share of $5.3 billion the Nixon administration announced Tuesday it was releasing for such construction, less than half the amount authorized by Congress, which passed the waste treatment bill over President Nixon's veto Oct. 18.

There appeared to be some chance a state or states might use the federal government for withholding money appropriated by Congress, and Whitman indicated Ohio could be one of them.

"It's something we have to explore," he said. "It's my feeling that the states must act together in shaping future federal-state relations in this field.

"We would be very insterested in working with other states to strengthen the states' position in this whole business," he added.

Whitman said he was "disappointed, but not surprised" that Nixon had decided not to release all the money allocated by Congress.

"It puts the whole program in a different light," he said. "This program is a major revision. There are a lot of new requirements, and we're gearing up now to carry out the state's responsibility.

"It's been a great burden on us. We go through all this and then we see the funds are not going to be available to do the job," he said.

Whitman said the new money can be used not just for construction of treatment facilities as in the past, but also for sewers and collection system.

And he said the federal matching share for each project would go up from between 30 and 55 per cent currently to 75 per cent, which he said was a mixed blessing.

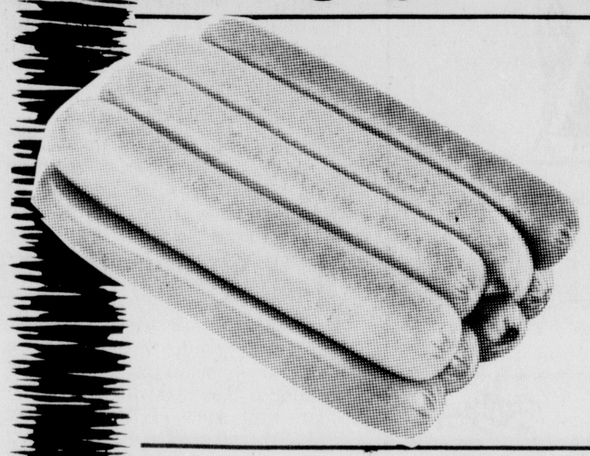

"As long as there's plenty of money it's fine," Whitman said. "But if there's not enough money, it's going to hurt. The federal money isn't going to go as far because the amount that goes to any one city will be larger."

Green places in the city

The strident cries of latter-day environmentalists have generated the impression that concern about preserving our natural heritage is something new. The fact is that the present generation of nature lovers were fortunately preceded by men of vision on whose work we are now able to build.

This is brought to mind by word of two exhibits, one in New York's Whitney Museum and the other in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, dealing with the generative work of Frederick Law Olmsted in the latter half of the 19th century. Olmsted was a man who believed in open green space - parks, parkways and the like; places where city residents could breathe and enjoy something of nature's unique beauty.

Central Park, that wonderful oasis in New York City, was perhaps Olmsted's greatest achievement. Many other cities, directly or indirectly, have been the beneficiaries of his concepts. Few, if any, cities (and certainly that includes Washington C.H.) carried them far enough.

One of the best things that could happen to American cities would be a rival of the Olmsted spirit in rehabilitation and future planning.

THESE DAYS . . . . by John Chamberlain

The shape of the peace to come

Richard Nixon apparently has pulled it off.

At the beginning of his first term he said the world was about to move from a period of confrontation to one of negotiation.

Coming from the Cold Warrior par excellence, the statement seemed at the time to be just another bit of flatulent rhetoric. But, lo and behold, one thing has followed another: the handshaking in Peking with Mao and Chou, the trip to Moscow, the go-ahead signal to Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany to open conversations with the East Bloc, the SALT I agreements, the planning for SALT II, the authorization of Boeing 707 jet plane sales to Red China and wheat shipments to a hungry Soviet Union, the various monetary understandings with old allies, the Middle East maneuverings to damp down the Arab - Israeli conflict, the prospect of taking natural gas from Siberia, and finally, the marathon Kissinger talks in Paris with the North Vietnamese and in Saigon with President Thieu.

We veterans of the Cold War, who might have preferred to keep the pressure on the two big Communist nations until, under internal stress, they would have been forced to relinquish their octopus grip on their satellites, may look upon what has happened with a certain amount of regret. In the coming world the captive nations are destined to remain captive.

There will be no forthcoming "third spring" in Prague. The Berlin Wall will not come down. The inhabitants of the Baltic states will remain serfs on the Imperial Kremlin. The young Hungarians will never again trust the U. S. to cow Moscow into desisting from using the threat of invading tanks to break a revolution.

THOUGH we may shed a tear for what might have been, realism tells us that Nixon has accurately read the desires of millions for a cessation of struggle. I had this borne in upon me last September during a visit with West German friends in the Black Forest region. The older generation of the family we were staying with had not originally been Willy Brandt supporters. But they had grown tired of waiting for the reunification of the two Germanys on terms compatible with Western notions of an equally free citizenship for everybody.

When a limited agreement with the East Germans permitted the mother of the family to visit her sister in the East Zone for the first time in some 25 years, she just had to welcome it. Her feelings, multiplied across the board in family after family, virtually guaranteed Willy Brandt his majority in the November election.

And so it must go throughout the world if the Era of Negotiations is not disrupted by unforeseen accident or contingency. The Cold War will continue in a muted sort of way as the East and the West maneuver stealthily to win the allegiance of Third-World countries and to compete on the oceans.

But the romantic days of opposition to Communism are no more. Even Castro, bad cess to him, will get off the hook. The new watchword will be accommodation. Nixon hopes to build trade relations with the Soviets that will make for a situation which neither Washington nor Moscow can afford to disrupt.

When Soviet natural gas begins to move through pipes to tidewater for shipment to the West, the Kremlin will no longer be able to afford open war. And when those Boeing 707s go to Red China, Peking's continuing need for spare parts and new engines will be a powerful argument for maintaining a diplomatic status quo.

Henry Kissinger, the student of early Nineteenth Century European diplomacy, has taken us back to 1815, when the anti-Napoleonic coalition imposed the so-called System of Metternich on Europe. There was peace from 1815 to 1848, but it was a peace based in many countries on domestic suppression. No doubt the peace was preferable to continued bloodletting. The lid eventually blew off with the uprisings of 1848, when literary romanticism moved a younger generation to the active romanticism of revolution.

The survivors of the Cold War must reluctantly bow to events. But the ghost of my old friend Bela Fabian, the Hungarian Freedom Fighter who used to bring me news from the East European underground, will surely troubled my sleep.

How, when we meet beyond the River Styx, will I be able to explain it all to him? I wouldn't really know.

Letters To Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

My reaction to the recent letter of J. H. Persinger, M.D., in which he accused the people of Ohio of "losing their ability to think for themselves" because 69 per cent voted to keep the graduated state income tax: would he prefer a system of government under which one man, such as himself, did the thinking for the 3.8 million Ohioans who went to the polls to decide the issue?

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Downtown property owners have always been concerned about declining values from rundown property. Various schemes have been tried by the local Chamber to perkup the downtown business district.

By far the best solution is for a building owner to seize the initiative and start right on his own door step. It takes courage and forsight to tackle an old building and turn it into a showplace and a classic example of this courage was shown by Dick Willis who last week opened his new offices at Fayette and Market streets.

The citizens of Washington and particularly the downtown merchants should be very proud of the confidence in his community shown by this property owner. Not only has Dick Willis set the pace but he has set the style. Our Virginia ancestors would be proud of this return to traditional design for our town, and I am real proud to know that we have people with this kind of solid faith in the future of Washington C.H.

State Fair profit $7,051

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1972 Ohio State Fair's 12-day run showed a profit of $7,051, an audit from the office of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson showed today.

The audit showed the fair this year cost the state $2,389,721 while income totaled $2,396,772.

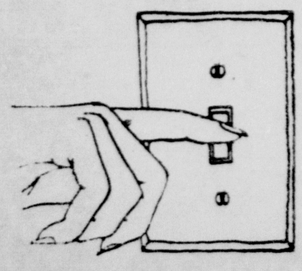

Fair Manager Victor Lucas said wet weather during the fair cut attendance and the predicted figure of 2.5 million visitors wasn't reached. Paid attendance this year totaled 2,209,993.

Lucas said the fair is not intended as a money maker and any profit is reinvested in the annual event.

The audit was critical of some fair operations, saying:

"The accountability of the advance sale of admission tickets, stickers, exhibitor's tickets, trailer parking and percentage fees on certain concessions continues to be less than satisfactory."

Hold judge's son on narcotics rap

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. Customs agents report they have seized 350 pounds of hashish and arrested a Superior Court judge's 30-year-old son on charges of illegal importation of the narcotic.

Agents disclosed Monday that Jonathan L. Cook was arrested after he picked up an air shipment of Indian moon bells at the San Francisco International Airport and took them to Santa Rosa.

Cook, son of Alameda County Superior Court Judge Lyle E. Cook, was released on his own recognizance after being arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Owen E. Woodruff. A further hearing will be held Dec. 8.

Customs agents estimated the hashish would be worth $1.5 million if sold on the street. They said trained detector dogs sniffed out the drug hidden in the 25 cartons of brass bells and the cartons were resealed to await a pickup.

Open Letter

TO: Richard Willis

DEAR DICK: Congratulations on the completion of your new building at the corner of Market and Fayette streets. It is most attractive and adds much to the appearance of the downtown area. Your accomplishment adds to those endeavors of many others who are constantly trying to improve the looks of Washington C.H. Wouldn't it be nice if all property owners in the city got on the "beautification bandwagon."

Court Streeter

Sailing men from the seaport town of Dhunga, India, used to be identified by the heavy cotton denim trousers they wore, and were called "Dungarees" as were the pants. That name led to a modern term for blue denim jeans — dungarees.

DKG hears about Navajo College

The November meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma was held in the Terrace Lounge and the invocation was given by Mrs. Robert Angus.

In the absence of the president, Miss Helen Hutson, Mrs. Karl Harper, the vice president, presided. A report of the membership committee was made by Mrs. Harold Callender and of the Christmas meeting by Mrs. Gilbert Biddle, of the planning committee.

The character sketch of Mrs. Ralph Child was given by Mrs. Harper.

The outstanding program for the evening, "Project North America," was presented by Miss Jeanette Stuart, of Lima, a past state president of DKG, and now editor of the "Voice" an Alpha Delta state publication. The program was given by her at the international convention in Houston, Tex., last summer.

"Project North America" deals with the Navajo Community College, at Gallup, N.M., the first institution of higher learning in the country, completely organized and controlled by the Navajo nation. It was a missionary's dream for the Navajo people to have such a school.

In 1969, President Nixon signed a bill which gave the Kavajos $5,000,000, and that year it opened its doors to 300 students and 800 are enrolled there. It cost about $1200 for each student. Navajos are given first choice for entrance, Hopi minority groups second, and the Anglos in that order. Miss Stuart illustrated her talk with slides.

Delta Kappa Gamma now is supporting eight scholarships through "Project North America."

The Navajo women wear velvet, and the more turquoise they wear the wealthier they are, Miss Stuart said.

The closing thought, "Things to learn," was given by Mrs. Harper. There was one guest, Miss Mary Tullis. She is a retired teacher from Lima, who accompanied Miss Stuart.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Max Morrow, chairman, Mrs. Clark Pensyl, Mrs. Foster, Miss Jane Durant and Mrs. Elton Elliott.

Wedding ceremony held in Grace Methodist Church

MR. AND MRS. CRAIG FINNEY

Miss Jill Woods became the bride of Criag Finney in a candlelight ceremony at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 11 in Grace United Methodist Church.

The Rev. John W. Armentrout officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar enhanced with four sets of candelabra with white and orange satin bows trimmed with emerald green, and a vase filled with yellow mums and pompons, orange carnations and white pompons. The pews were marked with orange and white satin bows.

Mrs. Gene Hughes, organist, presented a prelude of wedding selections.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Woods, 448 Highland Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Finney, 1041 Golfview Dr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white antique satin. The empire waist and high necklines were trimmed with Venice lace. The bishop sleeves were satin faced organza also trimmed in Venice lace. She wore an elbow-length bouffant veil with profile headpiece of Venice lace, and carried a tapered three-ball colonial bouquet of white daisy pompons, white miniature carnations and white sweetheart roses tied with moss green velvet.

Mrs. Michael Woods was matron of honor for her sister-in-law. Bridesmaids were Miss Shelley White, of Zanesville, and Mrs. Stan Helfrich. Miss Kami Kline was junior bridesmaid. They wore identical floor-length gowns of green, yellow and apricot. Matching heirloom lace trimmed and the bodice and long flowing sleeves. Each carried a hurrican lantern trimmed with gold and bronze pompons, orange carnations, green star flowers and wheat tied with fall-colored satin showers. They wore headpieces of matching flowers.

Miss Jeanette Cobb was the flower girl. Her dress was yellow, identical to that of the bridesmaids. She wore a matching flower headpiece and carried a basket tied with fall colored satin bows and filled with yellow rose petals.

Keith Finney was the best man for his brother and Eric Finney, another brother, was the ringbearer. The ushers were Brian Finney, Michael Woods, Brad King and John Huysman.

Mrs. Woods chose for her daughter's wedding an A-line floor length gown and matching coat of yellow brocade with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor length gown of turquoise double knit with silvergray accessories. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids and rosebuds.

Hostesses for the reception in Fellowship Hall were Mrs. Robert Noel, Mrs. Ted Kline and Mrs. David Keller. The bride's table featured a three-tiered wedding cake with four individual cakes encircling it. The cakes were decorated with yellow roses and rosebuds, with cherubs and harps on each individual cake. White candles in silver holders flanked the cakes. A miniature bridal couple topped the wedding cake. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple is residing at 226 N. Bend Court.

Present were Mr. Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Martin, of Jamestown, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Martin and Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Beal and Michelle, Mrs. Beverlye Martin, Mike, Keith and Gary Lee, all of Xenia; Mrs. Dale Knox and Debra, of Sabina; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Couture and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Campbell, all of East Hartford, Conn., who were guests of the Campbells for the Thanksgiving weekend.

Luncheon guests of the Copleys

Mr. Elias Subeh, of Bethlehem, Israeli, and Mrs. Marguerite Moore, of Chillicothe, were Monday luncheon guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Cloyce D. Copley, 221 Gardner Court. Mr. Subeh was a guide in Israel last February for the tour of the Holy Land taken by the Copleys and Mrs. Moore. Mrs. Moore has been visiting Grace United Methodist Church, where she showed slides to the Golden Age Club. Two of Mr. Subeh's sons have been attending school in the U. S.

The highlight of a tour of Washington C. H. by Mr. Subeh was the viewing of the stained glass windows of Grace Church. He is always a tour guide for the Billy Graham tours of which there are several each year.

At 12, they sew a very fine seam

WINNING STITCHERS — Prizes in the Junior Miss Division of the Singer World Stylemaker Contest were carried home by Nancy Ann Cavallaro, left, Elmhurst, Ill.; Betsy Goldsmith, Marion, Ind.; Linda Jean Gorski, Chicopee, Mass.; and Virginia Lee Stehlin, Pompano Beach, Fla.

At the ripe age of 12, four prizewinning sewers had collectively created hundreds of items on their sewing machines — bikini bathing suits, Eisenhower jackets, pants suits and gifts for relatives — before they became regional sewing contest winners capping their prowess in the grand finale in New York where they were accompanied by their mothers.

Diminutive Betsy Goldsmith, 4 feet 8, of Marion, Ind., was crowned Queen of Sewing in the Junior Miss (10 to 12-year) division of the Singer World Stylemaker contest, an annual event that had 65,000 entrants in three sewing categories. Her $3000 prize money was earmarked for college to be added to the $1000 already won by her and the other girls — semi-finalists Nancy Cavallaro of Elmhurst, Ill., Linda Gorski of Chicopee, Mass., and Virginia Stehlin of Pompano Beach, Fla.

You can take it from all four — basting is the key to a successful garment.

But why do they sew? The consensus is they can have prettier clothes for less money.

Betsy has been sewing up a storm since she was 9, and the little champ had really planned to make a spring coat for the contest, but instead she had made the winning red and white pants outfit with the elephant motif at a cost of $20. She likes to make her own things because she can pick out fabrics she likes.

Nancy began sewing because "my mother didn't and I was growing so fast I just couldn't find anything to fit me," she said. "Last summer I grew three inches." Since Nancy's regional triumph her mother has become so enthusiastic — and a little embarrassed, maybe — that she, herself, will begin sewing lessons next month. Nancy had made 30 garments before she tackled the floor-length flocked nylon over a lavender lining that won in the regional event.

The tallest girl, Linda, had learned to sew "by fooling around with material" and she sews to keep herself in stitches — "at this age boys couldn't care less what you wear," she says. But she needs clothes and they can be made cheaper at home. Her multicolor acrylic jumper with matching pants and pink turtleneck blouse cost $23, although she has made lots of garments for less than $7.

Economy was a factor too in Virginia's determination to sew. At 4 she was at a toy sewing machine making doll clothes. And because she spends so much time at the beach and sailing, she has been making herself bikini outfits with matching jackets, and that kind of thing, all while she earned 49 Girl Scout badges, the entire number in the handbook.

Her outfit, a blazer of wool plaid with coordinated orange A-line skirt, was topped with a peaked beanie of white vinyl and a matching bag, which she had also made.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bellino and son, Mike, and daughters, Lynn and Maria, of Conyers, Ga., were weekend houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maddux and family, 558 Albin Ave.

Miss Lilienkamp completes wedding plans

Miss Brenda Lilienkamp, bride-elect of Ronald Smith, has completed plans for their open church wedding, to be an event of Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in St. Colman Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Richard J. Connelly will officiate for the ceremony.

Miss Lilienkamp is the daughter of Mrs. James Lilienkamp, 7 Heritage Court, and the late Mr. Lilienkamp. Mr. Smith is the son of P. D. Smith, 906 S. Main St., and the late Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. J. Rankin Paul, organist, will present a prelude of wedding selections.

Miss Darlene Lilienkamp, of Dayton, will be maid of honor, and Miss Pamela Roeckner, also of Dayton, and Mrs. David Elliott, of Washington C.H., will be the bridesmaids. David Loudner will be the best man and seating the wedding guests will be Robert Minshall and Michael McNamee.

Hostesses for the reception to be held at the Lafayette Inn immediately following the wedding, will be Mrs. Royce McGhee, Mrs. Steven Merritt and Mrs. William Stahl, all of here. Mrs. J. B. Campbell, of Springfield, Ill., will preside at the guest book.

Dodds' hosts to class meeting

The Loyal Disciples Class of the South Side Church of Christ met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dodds with 15 members present.

Mr. Dodds, president, conducted the business meeting. Class projects were discussed and the class voted to give $50 to support of the new church in London.

Cards were sent to several ill members and Mr. Dodds led the devotions entitled "A Thanksgiving Meditation."

John Coulter gave the invocation preceding the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Velma Blair and Mrs. Dodds.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

'4 Eyes': better to see the pass that's coming

DEAR ABBY: A high school girl signed, "Four Eyes," wrote complaining because she had to wear glasses. "And to make matters worse," she added, "someone wrote me a note, saying, 'Guys never make passes atirl girls who wear glasses.'"

You sought to comfort her with your own verse, "Guys will make passes at girls who wear glass, providing the dames have good looking frames."

Your reply puts you in first-rate company, as Christopher Morley wrote a two-line postscript to that famous verse:

"But glasses can always be checked
"By a girl who's about to be necked."

In case you have further correspondence with "Four Eyes," please remind her that a young man's character, disposition, and behavior are much more important than whether he wears spectacles. Likewise, any male worthy of her attention will judge her by her essential qualities rather than by her optical equipment. Greetings,

G. P. IN ANN ARBOR, MICH.

DEAR G. P.: You're right! I once fell in love with a shy college man who wore glasses. I can still remember how my heart pounded when he walked me to my door and removed his glasses, because then I knew he planned to kiss me goodnight. (P. S. I married the man.)

DEAR ABBY: Each morning (Monday through Friday) a young neighbor honks his horn at an early hour as he leaves for work. I presume it is intended as a cheery goodby signal to his wife.

This honking disturbs us and others in the neighborhood. We are elderly and not in the best of health. We don't wish to alienate our young neighbors, but how can we let them know this honking disturbs us?

MATTISON STREET, FREWSBURG, N. Y.

DEAR MATTISON STREET: After this hits print, you may not have to.

DEAR ABBY: The man who reduced his wife to tears when he suggested that instead of a family vacation, the money be spent for "a face lift for mother" may not have deserved the rebuke you gave him.

Perhaps he had stood around the bedroom day after day listening to his wife complain (during menupause, no doubt) about how terrible she looked and how depressing it was to see her wrinkled, sagging face in the mirror, and he thought a face lift would make her the happiest woman in the world.

Maybe he deserves to be chastised for making the offer at the dining room table in the presence of the children without first having done a little personal exploring, but nobody's perfect.

No, I didn't make the same mistake. But I might have.

MR. AVERAGE

DEAR MR.: I agree his offer was lovely, but his timing was lousy. And that's why I chastised him.

DEAR ABBY: A tip from another veteran letter carrier for "Afraid of Dogs":

I carried an umbrella, rain or shine. When harassed by a dog, I simply open it in his face and Fido retreats in confusion because he can't figure out what it is, especially if I get fancy and rotate the handle and flap it open and shut it a time or two.

If he attempts to circle me, I ease the umbrella behind me with the grace of a bullfighter and keep the shield between me and the dog.

EUGENE

DEAR EUGENE: Beautiful! Your suggestion may start a boom in the umbrella business.

'Moon' yearners can now buy bottles legally

By BETTY MILLS
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—If you're yearning for that good ol' moonshine, no longer do you have to sneak down to a still hidden from the revenuers in some hollow; you can just visit your local state liquor store.

The West Virginia Alcohol Beverage Control Commission (ACC) has recently stocked several of its stores with two brands of old-fashioned white corn whiskey, "guaranteed to be less than 30 days old."

"One of the main reasons we decided to put it on the shelves," according to ABCC commissioner Richard Barber, "is that many people just like the taste of moonshine. We had quite a bit of demand for it."

The whiskey can be inbibed without feeling the after-affects of the home-brewed variety, Barber said.

"That stuff can make you blind or kill you if it's not good quality," Barber said. "I would certainly hope our stocking the stuff will cut down on any deaths or blindness."

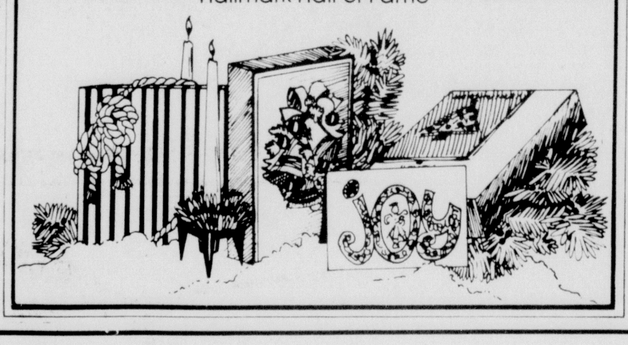

The two brands sold in about 60 ABC stores arourd the Mountain State are Booneshine, a 100-proof whiskey manufactured in Cincinnati, and Georgia Moon, an 86-proof variety produced in the Peach State.

Booneshine, sold in pint package, retails at $2.66, while Georiga Moon comes in a bottle shaped like a fruit-jar that holds a fifth and costs $4.41.

"It's distilled just like regular whiskey," Barber said. "The big difference is that white whiskey isn't put in charred barrels to age. Supposedly the longer whiskey ages, the smoother it gets."

Nearly 1,200 persons have been convicted during the last five years for violating laws regulating Sunday business operations in South Africa.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I have read many times about ways of correcting mildew in basements and on the sidewalls of a house, but I have a new problem. Mildew collects on the clothes in one of the closets in our house. What can be done about it?

A. — Yours is not a new problem. It usually happens in a closet on an outside wall and in one in which dampness is present because of condensation. As soon as you make the closet warmer and drier, the mildew will be unable to grow. This can be done in any one of a number of ways and, in severe cases, in several ways.

If it is impractical to keep the closet door open all the day, replace the present door with a louvered one. Warm the outside wall of the closet, perhaps with insulating material of some kind (this is a last resort when other measures fail). Keep a light bulb burning in the closet 24 hours a day. Use a chemical dehumidifier to sop up the warm, moist air.

Q. — Some time ago you wrote about using a shellac stic to fix a damaged table top. My local hardware store does not carry it. The clerk says he never heard of it. Can you help me?

A. — While some hardware stores do not have much call for shellac stick and do not handle it, only someone with a limited knowledge of wood finishing is unaware of its existence. A shellac stick is made of hardened shellac about the size of a very fat pencil. Try your local paint store or lumber yard. If still unable to purchase one, try a wood finishing establishment, getting the name from the commercial directory pages of your phone book. Shellac sticks are inexpensive and come in various shades, so it's a good idea to buy several of them so that you can obtain a good match whith your furniture.

Q. — What can I use under wood paneling to protect against possible dampness? I am applying the paneling to a masonry wall. There doesn't appear to be any dampness now, but I don't want to take down the paneling if it should occur.

A. — First, use a wood preservative on the furring strips and backs of the panels. Secondly, place sheets of polyethylene sheets under the panels.

Q. — Is there a special way to apply enamel to make a smooth finish?

A. — Enamel should be flowed on from a full brush, parallel to the grain, with a minimum of stroking. After the initial lap, immediately cross stroke a less fully loaded brush. Following this, go over the surface with the tip of a nearly dry brush, this time following the grain.

CU urges legalization of marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers Union, the nonprofit product testing organization, has recommended legalization of marijuana.

"Marijuana is here to stay," said a report begun by CU in 1969. "No conceivable law-enforcement program can curb its availability."

CU suggested that all laws controlling marijuana be repealed and replaced with controls only on the cultivation, production and marketing of the stimulant.

It also recommended that all those imprisoned for selling or possessing marijuana be released.

"It's much too late to debate the issue," the report said, adding: "We do not recommend legalization because we believe marijuana is 'safe' or 'harmless.' No drug is safe or harmless to all people at all dosage levels or under all conditions of use."

Instead, the report said, CU is seeking an end to the marijuana black market which has led to the "criminalization and alienation of young people."

The report also dealt with hard drugs and alcohol, recommending that drug addicts be treated with controlled maintenance programs. The dangers of alcohol should be advertised by affixing warning labels similar to those on cigarette packages, it said.

Old-time blues players pep up Memphis music festival

By DOUG STONE
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Some of the time-weathered blues men were so old they hobbled onto the stage, but the music they produced wasn't the least bit lame.

The scene: the Second Annual River City Blues Festival, an aggregation of the best of what's left of the true blues musicians from up and down the Mississippi River — mostly ancient black men whose early records are now collector's items.

The names from the past: Bukka White, Furry Lewis, Therley "Speedy" Ashford, Sam Chatmon, Jimmy Deberry, Mrs. Van Hunt, Houston Stackhouse, Harmonica Frank Floyd, Big Sam Clark, Willie Morris, "Piano Red" Williams, Joe Willie Wilkins and his King Biscuit Boys.

The festival brought them together under one roof last weekend and they showed the spectators just what "the blues" really is.

Take the rhythm of Africa, throw in a dash of the old work songs of the cottonfields, blend in the mood of the lazy southern rivers, and decades of oppression in which happy moments didn't come easy, then sprinkle in a thousand other ingredients and you can, perhaps, define the blues.

Whatever it is, it is not brassy. Nobody at the festival of the "old blues" brought a horn—it was guitars, harmonicas and pianos.

The music created on them was enough to drift the audience into a head-nodding rhythm so they could keep the beat with hands and feet.

Sam Chatham, born in 1899 in Hinds County, Miss., is holding down a nightwatchman's job these days. But he stroked a guitar with nimble fingers and told the spectators, "You've just been sitting' there, now I'm going to run you out." He did "St. Louis Blues."

Many of the songs didn't have names—they were a feeling expressed in music for which there was no name other than "the blues."

The names of other songs told the story, mostly of lost women, hard times and down and out on whisky—"Doggone Sugar Blues Done Soured On Me," and "Got To Stop My Boogie 'Cause My Woogie Don't Work No More."

Perhaps the best known of the performers were Bukka White and Furry Lewis.

White, 63, a native of Houston, Miss., is a cousin of and was the musical inspiration for contemporary bluesman B. B. King. White started recording for Victor in 1930, then hoboed around the country and said he ended up in the mid-30s in Parchman Prison in Mississippi.

Just before that, he had recorded a best seller, "Shake 'Em On Down," for Arc. He did 14 songs while in prison and they were released on Herwin and did not sell well. They have since been reissued by Columbia under the title "Parchman Farm."

Prison life apparently left its scar on White and he dropped off the music scene until he was re-discovered in the 1960s. Now, he gets request for performances from overseas as well as in the United States.

Furry Lewis, 79, is an exstreet cleaner, ex-hobo, exmedicine 'show man. He's been recording since 1927 under a number of companies.

The only white performer at the River City Blues Festival was Harmonica Frank Floyd, who strums a guitar while playing the harmonica, held in his mouth without the assistance of a rack.

Floyd, 64, achieved modest fame in the 1920s through 40s, mostly on radio. He did a few records over the years, the last of which were in 1950 for the Memphis labels Chess and Sun.

Seek court rule on school funds in Michigan

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of Detroit's financially-pinched public school system have been told to seek a district court order to compel Michigan to provide funds to keep the schools open.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals advised the officials in a written statement Monday that jurisdiction on the particular issue belongs to the U.S. District Court in Detroit.

The appellate court dismissed a motion filed here by Detroit school officials last week for the order.

Officials, who plan to close for eight weeks beginning Dec. 21, contend they lack sufficient funds to maintain classes for the 180 days required by the state this school year.

The city has already borrowed $22 million from local banks to keep classes going until Dec. 21. The officials say the system will run up an $80 million debt if forced to operate a full school year on current funds.

White House Yule slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House will be closed to the public Dec. 8-10 while it is being decorated for the Christmas holidays.

Decorating will be supervised by J. Lidden Pennock, a Philadelphia horticulturist and floral decorator who provided the setting for Tricia Nixon's wedding.

The tree for the White House Blue Room—a 20-foot Noble Fir—is coming from Washington state and is expected to arrive Dec. 7th.

All of the holiday finery will be ready for showing Dec. 11.

There's no word yet whether the presidential family will be in the White House for Christmas, which has been their custom.

The Jacobshavn glacier on the west coast of Greenland is one of the largest in the Western Hemisphere and the world's fastest, National Geographic says. It flows at a rate of more than 100 yards a day and "calves" giant icebergs as often as every five minutes.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Please Stand By" is the phrase generally used by a television network whose picture goes blooie. It also is the title of a new theatrical film that poses an intriguing question of the future.

First consider the distinct possibility that, a few years from now, most network television shows will be broadcast via domestic satellite. Then ask: Can this lead to electronic mischief?

"Please Stand By" says it sure can. U.S. satellite officials say it sure can't, at least not the way the film's plot line would have it.

The movie is about a group of technically expert radicals who interrupt a network's satellite transmission during the nightly news to beam a counter-culture message.

They do it with a stolen mobile television van supposedly equipped to beam a signal to satellites on station above the United States.

They roll their one-minute videotape message on the network's satellite frequency, then lower the antenna and roar off into the night, lest the Federal Communications Commission get a fix on them.

The counter-culture broadcasts begin and end with a deep voice intoning, "The airwaves belong to the people."

The film is underground in the sense that it didn't open at Radio City Music Hall. It's playing in Greenwich Village. It is a drawn-out, clumsy effort. But its premise is very, very funny.

"Please Stand By" was produced, directed and written by Jack and Joanna Milton, a young New York couple who put the thing together for about $100,000. It's their first feature film.

Milton says the idea of a satellite caper had its roots in the real-life takeover of a local television station here by some radical folk a few years ago. They were evicted after a brief on-air show.

That happened a few years ago, but the idea resurfaced with a space-age twist when Milton read a few articles about satellites.

"Then we thought of doing a story based on the premise: 'How can we do it (broadcast by satellite) without getting caught,'" the 32-year-old filmmaker said.

How did they research the idea of an illegal satellite signal?

"Well, actually the government puts out all the necessary information," Milton said. "They really do. We did all the research in the San Francisco public library."

Did the filming attract the FCC's attention?

"No, we didn't have any problems with them because the FCC, of course, wasn't aware of what we were doing," Milton laughed. "If they were aware, we probably would have had problems."

Now comes the bad news for prospective signal thieves. An expert at the Washington-based Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT) says there is no way one satellite signal can be totally displaced by another.

The expert, who declined to be identified, says the worst that would happen during such an electronic caper would be much video fuzz and audio garble on our sets at home.

Okay. But if Walter Cronkite is interrupted by a mysterious voice that says, "The airways belong to the people," there may be a congressional investigation or something.

The flying wedge was outlawed in football when President Theodore Roosevelt threatened to ban the game by executive edict unless players quit being so rough.

Set installation for Archbishop of Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Most Rev. Joseph Bernardin will be installed Dec. 19 as Archbishop of the 550,000-member Archdiocese of Cincinnati by a papal delegate amid pomp and ceremony.

Bishop Bernardin, 44, succeeds the late Archbishop Paul Leibold as prelate of the 19-county southwestern Ohio archdiocese.

Leibold died of a stroke June 1. He was 57.

Archbishop Luigi Raimondi,, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, who installed Leibold, will conduct the same ceremony for Bishop Bernardin at St. Peter In Chains Cathedral, a diocesan spokesman said.

John Cardinal Krol of Philadelphia, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops (NCCB) will be among those in attendance. Retired Archbishop Karl Alter was also expected.

Bishop Bernardin, General Secretary of the NCCB and the United States Catholic Conference in Washington, was named by Pope Paul VI Nov. 21.

The archbishop-elect will be the youngest ever to hold that position in Cincinnati.

Bishop Bernardin said he intends to become a "people's bishop." His position in Washington was administrative. He said he looked forward to the return to pastoral work.

Bishop Bernardin was born in South Carolina, the son of immigrants from northern Italy. He served as an auxiliary bishop of Atlanta, Ga., before being assigned to Washington.

Mishap brings big damage suit

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)— The Tappan Co. of Ontario, Ohio, was named in a $1 million suit filed Monday by a Stamford woman who claims she was injured by her dishwasher.

Beverly L. Lawson charges that her dishwasher broke a drinking glass and sent pieces of it into one eye, causing extensive loss of sight. The accident occurred, she said, when she opened the dishwasher before it had finished its cycle to get a baby bottle.

The suit alleges that the Tappan Co. failed to provide protective devices that would have either prevented the glass from hitting a propellor-like arm at the bottom of the machine or stopped the motion when the door was opened.

There are nearly 500 million Moslems in the world.

"It must be this new math — I brought her into the world 42 years ago, but she says she's 33!"

Reclamation of land is profitable

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The symbol of ecological devastation still is the scarred landscape, slashed and torn by man in his quest for the natural wealth of the earth. But someday that laceration might not be so obvious.

Prodded by criticism and threatened by legislation, companies which mine the earth for coal or ores or simply for new highway fill, are attempting to restore a natural appearance after they leave.

And now there is developing another incentive, one that business understands better. That's the profit motive, which yet may prove to be the ecologist's friend after all.

Between Dallas and Fort Worth, for example, a wildlife park exists on the reclaimed land of an old Gifford-Hill & Co. gravel pit. Near Indianapolis, an abandoned American Aggregate pit is the site of new housing.

In some instances the companies that did the digging are also responsible for converting the land to new uses, such as golf courses, lakes and shopping centers, but most do so with the aid of specialists.

To date, those specializing in land reclamation are even further fragmented into different aspects of the industry — in market research, financial feasibiity studies, utilization planning and the like.

Howard Hoffman claims to be the forerunner of a new type of enterprise, an organization that handles all aspects of the job: the studies, tax analysis, zoning changes, community relations, reconstruction, managing.

"We take surplus corporate assets — vestigial organs — and make money with them," he says.

Well before ecology became a central consideration for corporations, Hoffman was trying to sell them on using idle assets in imaginative ways, not only as a contribution to community appearance but to profits as well.

A former investor-developer who failed three times before making the grade, and who thus believes he finally knows his subject, he spent two years goading prospects to "get off your assets" before he landed a customer 10 years ago.

In Olympia, Wash., the St. Regis Paper Co. had idled a waterfront logging plant. With Hoffman's help it was subdivided for nine different tenants and then sold to the Port of Olympia for $2 million.

"Corporations don't understand real estate," he maintains. "It's a feel, a technique, an art, a creative feeling. The corporations have no expertise, no knowledge. No business school can teach you this business."

The problem for the corporations, he claims, is that they continue to think as corporate officials rather than real estate developers. "They have to think as entrepreneurs — and they can't."

As he explains it, the tough part is not drawing up the plans, but in completing the nitty-gritty work of rezoning, conducting engineering studies, obtaining rights-of-way and finding a builder-developer or investor to participate in a joint venture with the corporation.

PROMOTED — Mike Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wells, 921 Broadway, has been promoted to private first class in the U. S. Marine Corps at Camp LeJeune, N. C., where he is attending the auto mechanics school. He received basic training at Parris Island, S.C.

Radio transmitters help in surgery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Tiny radio transmitters will let doctors know how their spinal correction surgery is mending once doctors begin using a device under development here at Rainbow Hospital's Youth Spine Center.

The radio units are built into steel rods which are used to support the spine after operations to correct spinal curvatures and will let doctors keep tabs on the amount of stress upon the rod.

Slick roads blamed in four wrecks

Five minor traffic crashes were investigated by police and sheriff's departments Tuesday, four blamed on the icy, snow-covered roads Tuesday morning. One driver was cited, but no injuries were reported in the mishaps.

City police cited Margaret E. O'Flynn, 17, of 704 E. Market St., for failure to yield right of way following a two-car collision at the Main-Temple street intersection at 6:55 p.m.

According to officers, the O'Flynn car was attempting to make a left turn onto Main Street and collided with a westbound car driven by David E. Frye, 31, of 206 W. Temple St.

Damage to the two cars was moderate.

Other mishaps investigated were:

Local governments told few strings on tax funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Local governments can do pretty much as they please with their federal revenue sharing funds, as long as they tell the federal government about it, Ohio county commissioners were told Tuesday.

National Association of Counties spokesman Larry Naake addressed the state convention of Ohio County Commissioners and County Engineers Association here and explained to them how the revenue sharing program works.

Naake told the commissioners and engineers that the first revenue-sharing checks for the first half of 1972 will be sent out Dec. 7. The money for the second half of this year go out in January and after that the checks will be mailed quartely, he said.

Naake said the money must go into a trust fund as soon as it is received to assure that proper records are kept on the interest it draws and how it is used.

If local governments fail to inform the federal government by March 1, 1974, on how the money has been used or committed, they could lose 10 per cent of it in fines, Naake added.

He said the only other restrictions on the use of the money are that it can't be spent on education, general administration or as matching funds to obtain more federal grants.

Naake said the program will mean an additional $30.1 billion for local governments around the country over the next five years and eventually should undergo a "gigantic expansion."

Defer sentence in tax evasion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sentencing of a Steubenville grocer who pleaded guilty to tax evasion was deferred by U.S. District Judge Joseph Kinneary Tuesday pending receipt of a probation report.

Stanley E. Babicz, 56, pleaded guilty to evading taxes for the year 1968. The government in turn dropped charges of tax evasion for the years 1965 through 1967.

Babicz reported taxable income of $3,637 and paid a tax of $598 for 1968, but the Internal Revenue Service said he had taxable income of $6,750 and should have paid $1,228.

Honolulu may get municipal credit card

HONOLULU (AP) — Honolulu may become the first city to have an American Express credit card.

The city Office of Social Resources received a letter Monday from American Express addressed to "Mr. Honolulu City-County."

The two-page letter, signed by Maurice Segall, senior vice president and general manager for the American Express card division, started, "Dear Mr. County," and included an application for a credit card.

America's first fog-warning device was included in the construction in 1808 of West Quody Light, the most northern lighthouse along the rockbound coast of Maine. Sixty dollars were added to the lighthouse keeper's $300 yearly pay for beating a 500-pound bell with a hammer on frequent foggy days.

Hal Boyle . . . Hal's Mailbag Miscellany

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

So vast is the sun that a single storm upon the solar surface can produce in a single hour enough energy to satisfy the present power needs of the United States at the present rate for a century.

The development of a new product for today's market is a three-step process, an industrial wit says. First, an American firm announces an invention; second, the Russians claim they made the same discovery 20 years ago; third, the Japanese start exporting it.

If you want to be understood by everyone on earth, you'd have to be able to speak more than 3,000 languages. The largest, Mandarin Chinese, is spoken by 500 million people. English has by now probably become the second language to more people than any other tongue.

By the way, the Chinese, who are credited with having invented everything from gunpowder to spaghetti, also are believed to have been the first people to produce dictionaries. The one thing they didn't invent is chop suey, which is more indigenous to San Francisco than China.

Quotable notables: "The chief function of the body is to carry the brain around." Thomas A. Edison.

Half-forgotten heroes: The odds are at least 2 to 1 that you can't identify Karz Benz. Benz is the German inventor of the first reliable automobile in 1855. It had three wheels, an engine behind its single seat with only three-fourths of a horsepower, and on a fast track it could make a sedate eight miles an hour.

Surgical ants: Few people know that ants have an honored place in the history of human surgery. At least since the second century B.C. Hindu doctors used black ants, which have powerful jaws, in battlefield surgery. The ant was held up to the wound or incision until it had closed it with its jaws. The body of the insect was then pinched off, but its head still retained its grip on the incision. This surgical trick was used for centuries by physicians from Africa to Southern Europe.

In Finland, a driver caught with a detectable trace of liquor on his breath, can be jailed for up to five months — and at hard labor if he kills or injures anyone.

It was Don Marquis who observed, "An optimist is a guy who has never had much experience."

Policewoman tells how to foil attackers

By TERESA C. PITTS
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three hundred women in America will be raped tonight. Policewoman Jeanne Bray says in most cases it will be the woman's fault.

Women take foolish chances. They don't take adequate precautions. They don't even report assaults to the police.

These things make women sitting ducks for most types of sexual crime, said Mrs. Bray, 12 years with the Columbus Police Department.

"With most women it's an attitude of 'it can't happen to me,' " she said. But more than 36,000 women in the United States last year found out differently.

The rape figure available from the F.B.I. doesn't include simple assault, purse snatching, exposure, obscene phone calls and peeping toms either, she points out.

Mrs. Bray knows her stuff. A deceptively feminine five-time national policewomens' combat champion, Patrolwoman Bray travels the nation speaking to both women and men's groups about personal safety.

Her crusade began when, as a freshman in the department, she became frustrated with the number and circumstances of assaults on women.

Avoiding an assault "is simply a matter of common sense," she says, giving the impression she'd like to stamp her foot for emphasis.

And emphasize the point she does. Five-four, petite, blond ringlets in place, blue eyes unwarry, who instructs her partner, Bill, to come up from behind and place his hands around her throat.

"Hand clenches . . . now swing, up, round . . . there!" she chants, breaking his hold and sending a sharp finger jab to his solar plexus. (That's the fourth button down on a man's shirt, she says).

Two fingers into the eyes or a fingernail under the nose will do the trick too," she says.

"And you don't have to be a bit strong to do it."

Although she doesn't recommend hand-to-hand combat if it can be avoided, she tells her audience to remember three areas just in case: groin, solar plexus, eyes.

"Even slight pressure on these areas can cause extreme pain, unconsciousness, or even death," she says. "But if your life is in danger, anything goes."

No guns, cans of mace, judo. Patrolwoman Bray recommends defense weapons more at home in a woman's hands, and less likely to backfire during a crisis. Metal teasing combs, hair spray, puncturetype can opener, metal nail file, pencil, umbrella or high heeled shoe.

But women's best defense she says are the old stand-bys. Screaming, kicking, biting, scratching.

In case of an attack, Mrs. Bray outlined the following procedure: If in a residential area or business area during working hours scream and run to the nearest doorway. If it is obvious there is no help in the area, give the appearance of calm. Running, screaming or struggling may result in maiming — even death. Try to bluff your way out of it. Cooperate with the assailant until he relaxes his guard and you can run away.

"Remember, there are worse things that can happen than being raped," she said. "But, if your life is in real danger at any moment, try anything, do anything."

But the secret of not being attacked is to avoid it in the first place.

"Most street attacks are the result of opportunity, and when women tempt opportunity, they invite trouble."

A woman alone is a target — avoid it if at all possible.

Mrs. Bray advises the "silent treatment" for obscene phone callers, and a sense of humor for male exposures.

"If you just die laughing it's terribly ego deflating, and he'll probably never bother you again," she says.

Report an assault immediately, she advises. Try to remember what the man looks like and make a detailed report to the patrol officer. A policewoman is available to take the report if requested, she said.

Assembly meet, bowl game vie

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Speaker-designate A. G. Lancione says there is "no way" the scheduled opening session of the 110th General Assembly New Years Day could be postponed because of the USC-Ohio State Rose Bowl game.

But Lancione said he would try to get lawmakers out of session in time for them to see the contest on television.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Strange things happened to perennial flowers and shrubs in some parts of the country because of the unusual weather.

Dr. Harrison Flint of Purdue University explains that two extreme temperature dips came with little warning and plants were unable to harden off properly.

There are dramatic changes in shrubs and trees every fall.

"We see the external changes, in the color of tree leaves," he said. "But the internal changes, collectively called hardening, enable many plants to withstand subzero temperatures during the winter. These same plants would be killed by temperatures just a few degrees below freezing in the summer."

Dehardening occurs in spring. Plants harden and deharden at different rates.

Last fall, a sudden temperature drop came without a conditioning period. Fall was very mild. Then, in Indiana, there was frost Nov. 4, and 13 above was recorded by Nov. 8.

After two average months, the temperature skidded from 26 above to zero in 24 hours, then to - 18 within four days.

Viburnums, privet hedges, oriental arborvitae, forsythia and peach, Carpathian walnut and golden raintree trees were hit.

"High fall temperatures encouraged the doublefile viburnum to keep on growing," Flint added. "Then the sudden temperature drop caught in unprepared. Young plants in outdoor nurseries were destroyed."

Horticulturists are re-evaluating some shrubs and trees as a result of the odd wather pattern, which is considered a once in a 50-year phenomenon.

What should you do about damaged shrubs and trees? If only flower buds were damaged, time will remedy the situation. Where branches have been killed Flint recommends pruning to the live wood. And have patience. Give the plant a chance to come back.

Rose Festival

"A Rose Is a Song" was the theme of the fourth annual Rose Festival in the California area of Wasco, where 2,300 acres are devoted to raising these plants.

In that part of the San Joaquin Valley some of the world's largest growers produce more than half the nation's total rose crop.

Wasco and its neighbors, Shafter and McFarland, provide the great combination of rich, sandy loam, abundant, high-quality water, a long growing season and low winter rainfall.

A visit during the Sept. 9-10 festival would have provided a view of 28 million plants, in bloom.

If your cucumbers tended to be hollow, it probably was the result of poor pollination. Bitterness is the result of drought or cool temperatures.

Since these problems occur more often in certain cucumber varieties, grow a type known to be less susceptible to these troubles.

New Garden Book

A botanist and a photographer got together and produced a book that shoudl prove fascinating to orchid fanciers and growers. "The Strange and Beautiful World of Orchids" (translated from German) is by Friedrich Ebel and Otfried Birnbaum (Van Nostrand Reinhold Co.) Their aim, they said, was "to show something beautiful and at the same time interesting," and they have succeeded.

With each photograph, by Birnbaum, are details of the particular orchid's morphology, systematics, ecoloyg and discovery, plus comments by botanist Ebel.

American system 'sound', student tells Rotarians

Brenda Stockwell, as spokesman for seven Miami Trace High School students who attended the Student Conference on progressive Enterprise (SCOPE) at Middletown last fall, says the attitudes and interest of the approximately 700 other high school students there convinced her that the American social and economic system is on a sound foundation.

Speaking at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday in the Country Club, she said she came away from the conference with three basic thoughts: (1) A high goal should be set; (2) be competitive and try to excel; and (3) take a positive approach to life and the business of making a living.

SCOPE is sponsored by the Rotary clubs of this district. The session lasted all day in the auditorium of the Miami University Branch campus.

The top echelon speakers from business, industry and officialdom and a former Miss America covered a wide spectrum of social and economic life, placing emphasis on the American way of life and its relation to democracy and the free enterprise system, she said.

Miss Stockwell observed that she was particularly impressed with the talk by a former high official in the Hungarian government at the time the Communists took over the country. He is now director of the School of International Studies at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill. Another, with whom she was impressed, she said was the Rev. Dr. Floyd Faust, of Columbus.

Rollo M. Marchant, who accompanied the students from here, commented that the deep impact made by SCOPE on the students was unmistakable. He said they sat with rapt attention as they listened to one speaker after another. He added he hopes the district Rotary clubs will continue the project.

The business session was conducted by President Fred Domenico.

Student guests at the meeting were Steve Fenton, of WSHS, and Jeff Moore, of MTHS. Visiting Rotarians were George Gerhardt, of Mount Sterling, and Larry Turner, Robert Head and Ralph Clyburn, of Greenfield.

Oil and gas well regulations slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Changes in regulations governing Ohio's 23,000 oil and gas wells will go into effect Dec. 1, Natural Resources Department Director William B. Nye said today.

The changes require earthen dikes around wells and equipment which might leak, identification of the owners of wellheads and storage tanks, and locks on storage tank valves to discourage vandalism.

Ohio's 'bogus ballot' squad to check on double voting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 60-day hunt for Ohio voters who cheated by voting twice in the Nov. 7 election is scheduled to begin next month, soon after the official canvass Dec. 6.

It all depends on the state's 88 county election boards, some of them beset by recounts in local contests.

"We hope to have the official canvass Dec. 6," said Secretary of State Ted Brown. "We would like to have it by then, but it depends on the boards. "We are contacting today those election boards who haven't sent us their official counts."

Cuyahoga, Summit and Hamilton counties were among those boards.

Ohio's ballot box fraud squad will consist of a half dozen fieldmen in the secretary of state's office and the county boards. They will mingle their detective work with other standard election tasks over a two-month period.

A similar, but smaller, survey after the May 2 Democratic primary turned up just one case of double-dipping, the case of a county employe in Lake County.

"The man wasn't prosecuted," said James Marsh, the secretary of state's election counsel.

"I know he lost his job."

Brown said, "I don't know how you'd figure that case. You know, if you voted in the May 2 primary in Ohio and then moved to Michigan and voted there, I don't know how you'd pin it down.

"I guess you'd have to ask if the man voted twice for President. That would be double voting."

The danger of double voting came into focus when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled college students could vote in the locations of their schools.

On the other hand, the students could legitimately register both at their home town and at the university. Legally, they can vote only in one location.

Welfare-work plan started in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's able-bodied welfare recipients are beginning to trade welfare grants for pay checks under a mandatory work program, state officials say.

One-time recipients are working as auto mechanics, busboys, sheet metal workers, barbers, warehousemen and in other fields, says Bill Lawson of the Department of Human Resources Development.

In the six counties where the 4-month-old program is operating, 2,707 welfare recipients have been classified as employable, Lawson said. Of that total, 1,127 — or 42 per cent — are on regular jobs in private industry, 230 others are in training and 184 have been given "work experience assignments," he reported.

An additional 371 have been kicked off welfare rolls for refusing to take a job or training, Lawson added Monday.

Those for whom the state's unemployment office can't find a job immediately in the private sector are working for local governments in various jobs such as school crossing guards and parking lot attendants, Lawson said. Their only pay is their welfare checks.

"They're not just raking leaves," Lawson said. "It's work that needs to be done but otherwise wouldn't be done without raising taxes. And it gives them work experience, don't forget that."

The department claims more than 50 per cent of the recipients have moved into private jobs or job training and only about 7 per cent are in public service work.

Economic turnaround sparks new fears

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Just a bit more than one year ago the nation was forced to swallow a drastic tonic in order to jolt itself out of the economy lethargy that had settled into its bones.

Confidence was low. Retailers complained that consumers saved rather than spent on clothing, furniture and appliances. Consumers said they did so because prices were too high.

The nation's business leaders, fearful that the trend would continue, postponed expansion plans. Many jobseekers were said to have stopped looking, recognizing intuitively that if the economy was going nowhere, they were, too.

These were only a few signs of malaise when President Nixon shocked the world by effectively devaluing the dollar, imposing wage and price controls and reassuring the public that he would do everything to push expansion.

The assurance that the country would not be left to float or drift up out of inflation but would be given a boost, changed the spirits of millions.

The Federal Reserve Board, which controls the money supply and which, therefore, has almost as much to say about the economy as the President, participated in the new spirit.

Consumers resumed their buying. Business began expansion plans. Retail sales, at least for some items, boomed. Consumer credit, which had been shrinking, rose sharply. Stocks moved higher. The jobless rate fell. So did inflation.

And now, in testimony to the fact that the business cycle of ups and downs is the nature of things, a growing number of business and money men are concerned that restraints soon must be applied again.

This suggestion touches off a heated response from others, as it always has and will. The very idea is to some highly respected economists, an abomination, a narrow-minded, nearsighted, insensitive interpretation of options.

They point out that the nation has a long way to go before achieving its productive capacity and that, meanwhile, expansion should be encouraged. Inflation, they say, is not a current danger.

Those who are talking up restraint note, however, that there is a lead time of at least six months before definite changes can be brought about by monetary and fiscal policy.

They maintain that the inspiration given to spending during the past year must be watched closely lest it lead to a resumption of the inflation psychology during mid or late 1973.

So far, the Fed and the administration are mainly talking or warning rather than acting, but the concern is there.

The Fed, for example, has already begun slowing the rate of monetary growth, which means that in recent weeks there has been less money to use, to borrow, to lend, to make plans with.

As a result, pressure is building beneath interest rates. The mortgage rate to homebuyers is up slightly. And many bankers expect the prime lending rate to break upward from 5.75 per cent toward the 6 per cent of August 1971.

Brokers are becoming fearful that the slowing of monetary growth will abort the current stock market rise. It will mean less money for investing.

Ben Franklin, pioneer American printer and journalist, not only had a nose for news, but also a musical ear for news. As a boy he pelled on the street printed copies of a ballad he wrote chronicling America's earliest lighthouse tragedy, the drowning of the keeper of the Boston light and five companions in 1718.

Gas turbine for autos?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has awarded Chrysler Corp. a research contract to find out if gas turbines can compete with internal-combustion car engines and meet antipollution standards.

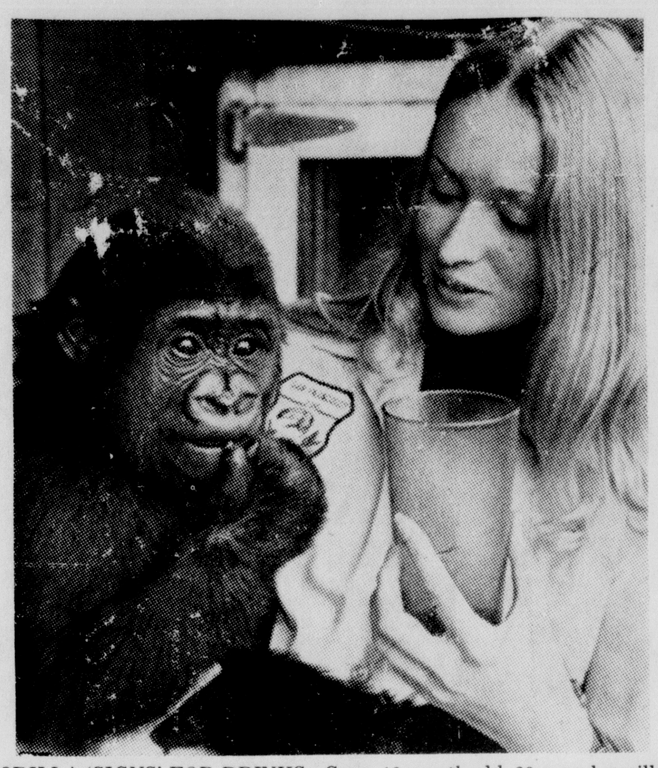

The Environmental Protection Agency, in announcing the award Monday, said the contract may eventually total $6.4 million.

Information resulting from the project will be available to the entire auto industry, an EPA spokesman said.

He said the aim of the contract is to develop and test gas turbines to determine if they can compete with internal-combustion engines in performance, fuel economy, reliability and cost while meeting federal antipollution standards for 1976 cars.

The gas-turbine tests, however, would not be completed in time to affect 1976 production-model cars.

Nationwide 'Rent Watch' successful, IRS reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government claims its nationwide "rent watch" has been a rousing success, preventing thousands of illegal rent increases while turning up only a handful of violations.

The Nixon administration put the rent watch into effect early this fall after Social Security benefits for retired people were increased 20 per cent. The watch was designed to prevent landlords from wiping out the Social Security gains by increasing rents.

The Internal Revenue Service investigated more than 90,000 rental units in a two-month period, finding only 24 minor violations and one violation that has been turned over to the Justice Department for possible prosecution.

In addition, IRS received 2,-178 complaints. It has completed investigations of 1,462 of these complaints, uncovering 404 violations, most of them so technical that they were corrected immediately.

IRS has assessed 15 landlords with penalties totalling $28,819. Four of these cases have been settled and collected and the remainder are on appeal.

IRS says the rent watch is still in effect and reports of illegal rent increases levied on the elderly receive expedited treatment.

Officials at the Cost of Living Council said the rent watch will continue as long as needed. They dismissed any notion that it would be abruptly dropped, giving landlords a chance to boost rents of old people.

Traditionally, retired persons have faced rent increases shortly after Congress raised Social Security benefits.

"The rent watch is not going to end with a bang, but with a whimper, for precisely the purpose that rents could be raised after it goes off," said one Cost of Living Council official.

An exception to the general trend during the rent watch has been in public housing, where the amount of rent hinges on a tenant's income.

Lions, MT complete pre-SCOL schedules

Sluggish WCH escapes pesky Astro comeback

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Washington C.H.'s Blue Lions, perhaps a bit overconfident, suffered an atrocious case of the blahs, but survived the substandard performance and escaped with a 57-52 win over a determined East Clinton team before a fine crowd Tuesday at the WSHS gym.

Head coach Gary Shaffer's Blue Lions, who squared their all-games record at 1-1 with the non-league victory were forced to rely on their free throw shooting performance since the Astros managed to score one more field goal.

A sluggish second half, in which Washington C.H. was able to dent the scoreboard with a meager 17 points, nearly spelled the Blue Lions' doom as head coach Jim Kramer's spirited East Clinton boys bounced back from a bulging 15-point deficit at intermission to change the complexion of the contest.

MISTAKES were also costly for Washington C.H. as the Blue Lion cagers were guilty of a total of 15 turnovers, 10 of that sum in a wild and wooly third period.

A quartet of Blue Lions landed double digit scoring totals in the contest as Shaffer's gang finished preparations for the 45th South Central Ohio League sweepstakes which opens Friday.

Jeff Wallace, Chuck Bath and scrambling guards Chris Shaper and Albert Donahue flipped in 10 points apiece to pace the win.

Jan Rittenhouse, a smooth-shooting junior forward, was East Clinton's ringleader with 14 points and junior guard Dave McKenzie popped in the identical sum. Jeff Streber, a senior backcourt gem, added 11.

THE LIONS zipped to a comfortable 20-12 advantage in the first period and unleased a 20-point splurge in the second quarter to grab a 40-25 upper hand at intermission. In the sluggish third quarter, the Blue Lions scored a mere six points as East Clinton closed the gap to 46-40 heading into the final frame. The teams traded buckets quickly in the fourth quarter, but an 11-point effort by the Lions notched the win.

The contest opened a slow pace and it was not until more than two minutes had elapsed that Bath netted a bucket to hand the Lions a lead which they somehow managed to never relinquish.

The tidy scorework of senior smoothie Dick Witherspoon kept the Lions on top until the 6-foot-2 pivotman experienced personal foul problems and was yanked in favor of Wallace. The hard-working junior scored a pair of quick goals and the Lions leaped to a 20-12 first canto lead.

The crisp passing and aggressive defense of Donahue and a flashy fast break headed by Shaper sparked the Lions to the 20-point second quarter spree and a 40-25 bulge at halftime.

What turned out to be a disastrous third quarter started when two Lion starters reported late and were charged with technical fouls.

Then the Lions committed four turnovers in less than three minutes as the Astros narrowed the gap to four points (40-36) with five minutes left in the period. Donahue came to the rescue with a pair of charity tosses and a driving layup and Bath notched a bucket to open a 46-36 spread. The Astros rushed back with a pair of goals and sliced the lead to a 46-40 heading into the final eight-minute frame.

ONE OF the referees turned out to be a critic in the opening moments of the fourth quarter when he charged an East Clinton player with a technical foul for "acting."

The scoring efforts of senior forward Joe Downs, who had been saddled with personal foul problems all evening, helped the Lions overcome East Clinton's fourth quarter comeback attempts.

Indians drop season debut

Clermont Northeastern cashed in for 23 points at the free throw line to hand Hillsboro a 71-66 setback in the Indians' season opener Tuesday.

Head coach Robert Ream's Indians poured in a total of 29 field goals while Clermont Northeastern pumped in only 23, but the winners held a 23-8 advantage in free throws.

The Indians grabbed a 20-17 first period lead, but feel behind 35-31 at intermission. Clermont Northeastern registered 17 points in the third quarter to a 52-49 advantage and capped the win with a 19-point fourth quarter spree.

Lion reserves square record

Washington C.H.'s reserve team, behind a 17-point scoring performance from sophomore guard Jim Vess, squared its season record with a 52-33 win over East Clinton Tuesday.

Coach John Skinner's Blue Lions grabbed an early lead which it never relinquished to post their first victory of the season.

Vess, a 5-foot-11 sophomore, netted seven field goals and three free throws to pace the balanced Blue Lion scoring attack. Frank Riley hooped nine markers and Garth Cox finished with seven.

COX SCORED five points in the opening period as the Lions posted a 13-4 first quarter advantage. Jerry Walls, who was East Clinton's top scorer with 14 points, garnered eight of that total in the second frame when the Astros outscored the Lions 17-10, but Washington C.H. held a 23-21 lead at intermission.

In the third stanza, Washington C.H. counted 12 markers to push the lead to 35-26 and Vess capped a 17-point fourth canto scoring spree with nine markers.

The Lions, now 1-1 on the season, will entertain Greenfield Friday.

OSU's linebackers win recognition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rick Middleton, an optimistic soul, figured Michigan had "only four chances" to go one yard for a touchdown that would have meant a Big Ten title and Rose Bowl trip.

Middleton and his fellow Ohio State linebackers, Randy Gradishar and Arnie Jones, succeeded, leading the Buckeye defense to its second superb goal line stand in a 14-11 triumph Saturday.

The victory gave Ohio State a co-title with Michigan and a Rose Bowl berth and the linebacking trio The Associated Press National College Lineman of the Week honors.

Otis Armstrong wins AP honors again

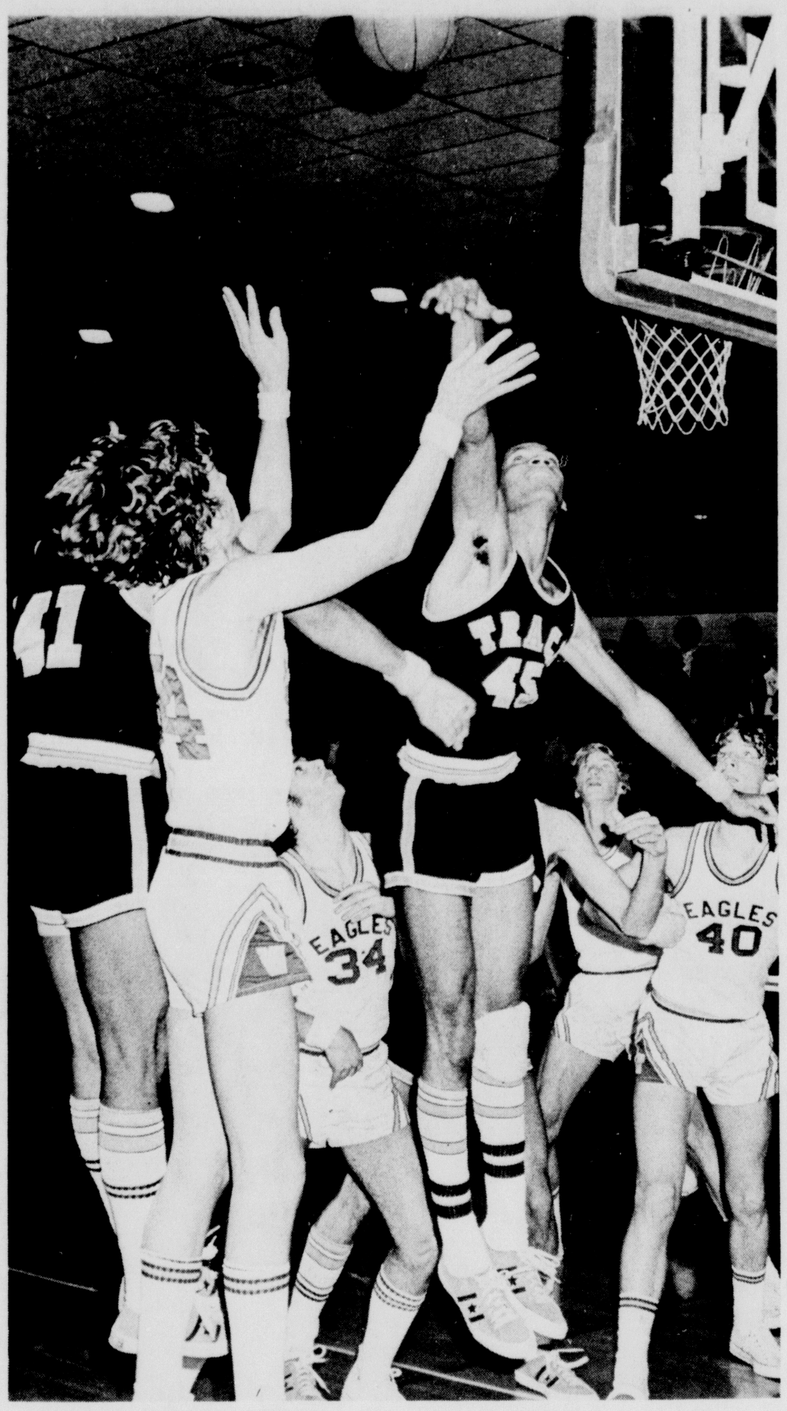

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Otis Armstrong, Purdue's star running back, just keeps getting better.

Five weeks ago, Armstrong was named National College Back of the Week by The Associated Press after carrying the football 32 times for a school record 233 yards and two touchdowns against Northwestern.

Saturday against Indiana he lugged it 32 more times, gained 276 yards and scored three touchdowns. That performance earned him Back of the Week honors once more, the only two-time winner this season.

The 5-foot-11, 194-pound senior from Chicago scored on dashes of two, 71 and 53 yards as he not only broke his own single-game Purdue mark but also wound up his three-year career with 3,316 yards, erasing the previous Big Ten record of 3,232 set in four seasons by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, and jumped from 16th to sixth on the all-time NCAA rushing list, passing such notables as Ameche, O.J. Simpson, Ollie Matson and Mike Garrett.

Frigid shooting hand spells Panther doom

By ED SUMMERS
Record-Herald Staff Writer

A defensive-minded Columbus Watterson quintet pulled the rug from under the cold shooting Miami Trace Panthers by a 65-45 margin Tuesday night on the Eagle hardwood.

The Eagles paced by guards Charles McCoy, and Dave Cecutti, who tossed in 41 points between them, held Miami Trace to one field goal and a free throw during the first 10 minutes of the game while they built a commanding 13-point lead which the Panthers could never overcome.

The Panthers were ice cold during the first half and only lukewarm in spots during the second half as they made good on 16 of 56 shots for a dreary 28.5 per cent, while the Eagles hit a respectable 42.5 per cent on 22 of 52 attempts.

THE EAGLES' tough man-to-man defense forced the Miami Trace offense away from the basket and kept big men Dave Persinger and Muff Jones off the boards. Watterson, about even heightwise with the Panthers, outrebounded Miami Trace by a 40 to 32 margin.

Pete Jones led the Panthers with 13 points and 10 rebounds before fouling out with five minutes remaining in the final period. Muff Jones tossed in 11 counters and Jeff Spears added nine to the losing cause.

Rugged guard Dave Cecutti led the Eagles scoring attack, pouring in 23 markers, on seven field goals and nine free tosses. His running mate, Charles McCoy, added 18 and forward Dave Boulware tossed in nine.

MUFF JONES gave the Panthers their only lead of the night when he hit a jumper from the foul line following the tipoff. The 2-0 lead quickly vanished as Watterson roared back with 10 straight points before Jones added a free throw to the Panther total, with 3:32 left in the quarter.

The Eagle big men gave Miami Trace only one try at the basket as they built a 16-3 lead at the quarter.

The Panthers broke the scoring ice in the second quarter with just over six minutes on the clock when Pete Jones sank two free throws. Jones went on to score the next eight Panther points and bring the Fayette Countians to within five points, 19-14, their closest margin of the evening.

Center Dave Boulware and Cecutti however combined for the next eight Eagle points as they pulled to a 32-21 halftime lead.

Miami Trace came out in the third quarter as if they meant business, reeling off five points within a minute and a half, but the attack fizzled as the Panthers threw away two more scoring opportunities and the Eagle defense stiffened.

The teams battled on even terms during the remainder of the quarter with the Eagles holding a 12 point bulge at 44-23 when the fourth period got underway.

TWO QUICK baskets and two free tosses by McCoy in the first two minutes of the last period gave the Eagles an almost insurmountable 16-point bulge. Both Jones brothers and guard Doug Baker left the game in the final period on fouls as Miami Trace tried to overcome the mounting lead.

The Panthers committed 23 miscues in the course of the action and Watterson had an equally bad time as they threw the ball away 21 times.

Watterson also had 16 more chances at the free throw line and made good on 21 of 26 chances. The Panthers hit on 13 of 20.

MT's jayvees notch second

Guard Mark Spears sank eight free throws in the last three minutes of play to lead the Miami Trace reserves to a hard-fought 44-27 win over a fiesty Watterson team Tuesday night.

The Panthers fell behind early to a rugged Eagle quintet, but fought back to a 18-17 lead at halftime.

Paced by a hustling Jay Mossbarger who tossed 11 counters on four goals and three charity tosses, the Panthers gradually built a small lead and held on to win their second game of the young season.

Hoban led the young Eagles with 20 counters and Fallon added seven to the losing cause.

Although the Eagles made one more field goal than Miami Trace, the Fayette Countians made good on 18 of 27 free throws while Watterson could capitalize on only nine of 24.

Domenico, Cobb eye berths on South star grid squad

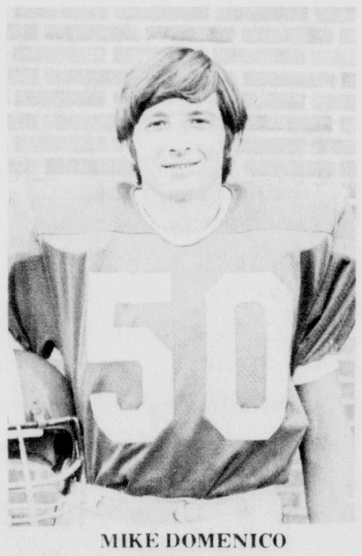

Two Fayette County football stars have been selected by head coaches in Region 14 of the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association as candidates for the 28th annual Ohio High School North-South all-star football game which will be played in Canton's Fawcett Stadium in August.

Mike Domenico, the Washington C.H. Blue Lions' senior team captain, was one of eight players selected to represent Region 14 in a pool of 64 gridders from the eight regions in southern Ohio which will form this year's 28-man South all-star team.

Gardner Cobb, Miami Trace's senior strongboy, was picked as an alternate from the Region 14 list since there is some doubt as to a player's eligibility due to a question in his coach's membership in the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association.

MAURICE PFEIFER, head football coach at Washington C.H. who was a member of the South coaching staff a year ago, announced the selection of the two county players to the Region 14 list following Sunday's meeting at Washington Senior High School.

Each of the eight southern Ohio regions selects an offensive team consisting of seven players, and one defenisve specialist is also picked. Each coach is able to nominate as many players as he feels deserves the honor as long as the nominating coach is a member of the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association.

MIKE DOMENICO

GARDNER COBB

The elite 28-man team will be selected by the South coaching staff at a regional director's meeting in Columbus Friday, according to Pfeifer.

Domenico, a 6-foot-1, 201-pound center and middle linebacker, grabbed All-South Central Ohio League and All-Central District first team berths this season.

The hard-nosed senior, who won the Blue Lion weightlifting and leading tackler awards, is a three-year letterman and has been Washington C.H.'s starting offensive center for the same number of years.

He led the team with 16 tackles in a single game (Hillsboro) and was also the leader in fumble recoveries and blocked kicks.

COBB, a 6-foot-3, 205-pound senior tackle who has an excellent opportunity of being selected depending on the eligibility of the player in question, also captured All-SCOL and All-Southeastern District berths this season.

Cobb, who has been described as the top defensive player in Miami Trace's history, won the team's headhunter award this year and is also a three-year letterman.

Others selected to this year's Region 14 list were:

Mark Beans, 5-11, 200-pound guard, Xenia; John Harbage, 6-4, 275-pound tackle, Springfield Southeastern; Joe Drennen, 6-5, 222-pound end, Xenia Beavercreek; Ed Thompson, 6-1, 195-pound quarterback, New Boston; Tony Pyne, 6-1, 189-pound running back, Xenia Beavercreek; Scott Porter, 6-1, 180-pound running back, Dayton Park Hills, and Marshall Allen, 5-11, 185-pound middle guard, London.

Racing commission plans 1973 slate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Racing Commission meets Dec. 6 to work out the 1973 Ohio horse racing schedule.

Tracks around the state have submitted applications for permits to the commission that would result in a season pretty much like the 1972 schedule.

The season would begin at Thistledown on Saturday, March 24, and close Monday, Dec. 10 at the same track. It would include 350 afternoons of thoroughbred racing, 450 nights of standardbred and 14 quarter racing matinees if all the applications are approved.

Ohio's deer harvest promising

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Wildlife Division says deer are plentiful in Ohio this year and hunters should have a good harvest.

The deer gun season opened Monday. The fleet animal may be hunted with a shotgun which uses a single ball or rifled slug, or a single shot muzzle-loading rifle of at least .38-caliber.

Hunting hours are uniform across the state, from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. with no hunting allowed on Sundays.

But hunting rules vary in each of the state's five deer hunting zones. Officials said hunters should consult the "1972 Ohio Hunting and Trapping Regulations" for specific information on their areas.

THE COUNTIES in each zone and season dates:

Zone 1, season runs from Nov. 27 - Dec. 1 for bucks only. Special anterless deer permits will be issued for Williams, Fulton, Defiance and Lucas counties. Counties in Zone 1 are Williams, Fulton, Lucas, Henry, Paulding and Defiance.

Zone 2, Nov. 27 — for any age or sex of deer, and from Nov. 28 to Dec. 1 for bucks only, in Stark, Mahoning, Trumbull, Portage, Summit, Geauga, Lake and Ashtabula.

There is no gun hunting season in Zone 5.

TRAFFIC HEARINGS

Five young drivers appeared before Judge Omar A. Schwart in Juvenile Court Tuesday on traffic charges.

James E. Hurless, 16, son of Mrs. Bernice Hurless, 225 Olive St., received a 30-day restriction of driving rights on a city police charge of failure to obey a traffic light. He was cited Nov. 3.

Gary Whittington, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Whittington, Rt. 6, was admonished by the court. He was cited Nov. 7 for reckless operation by city police.

Gary Holdren, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holdren, Columbus, was fined $10 and costs for driving in the left lane of Interstate 71 at a speed slower than normal traffic. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol Sept. 23.

Marilyn Moore, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moore, 514 Gregg St., received a 30-day restriction of driving rights for speeding. She was cited by the State Highway Patrol Oct. 2.

William Seymour Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Seymour Sr., 348 W. Court St., received a 30-day license suspension for leaving the scene of an accident Nov. 3. He was cited by city police.

DELINQUENCY HEARINGS

Three Fayette County boys, two of them brothers, were found to be juvenile delinquents Tuesday by Judge Omar Schwart. They were charged by the Sheriff's Department with using aerosol propellant to induce a state of intoxication.

One of the brothers, a 17-year-old, received a suspended committment to the Ohio Youth Commission, while the other brother, a 16-year-old who already was in custody of the Youth Commission from another county, was recommitted.

The third youth, a 16-year-old county boy, received a suspended commitment to the Ohio Youth Commission.

PETITIONS DISMISSED

Two divorce petitions have been dismissed from Common Pleas Court on motions by the plaintiffs. The petitions were styled: Violet I. Everhart, Rt. 1, vs. Robert Lee Everhart, same address; and Nancy L. Jenkins, 609 E. Market St., vs. Charles S. Jenkins, Greenfield.

WCH Lions Club roster grows beyond 100 mark

Four men were inducted into membership and two others were accepted for induction later at the Washington C. H. Lions Club meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Warren Craig, Gary Thompson, Darrell Stewart and William Lucas were given the obligation by Douglas Kelley, of Fairborn, governor of District 13 — following dinner in the Country Club.

James Steele and S. E. Vaughn, who had been accepted for membership, were welcomed officially by Phil Morrow.

The induction of the four new members put the roster just over the 100 mark.

Kelley, who was accompanied by Ed Wilcox, district secretary, also spoke briefly, concerning the Lions International, accomplishments and the projects and objectives for the year ahead. He also outlined the history of the organization.

The club's annual expense-paid "week at Miami Beach, Fla.," project was started. Tickets to be sold by the members were distributed.

At the board meeting following adjournment, bills totaling $253.60 for six eye care cases were approved.

Prison ombudsman named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George E. Miller, 53, was named today ombudsman for the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections, Director Bennett J. Cooper said.

Miller has been serving as ombudsman along with other duties, "but now will assume the full responsibility for developing the department's ombudsman program," Cooper said.

AMA eyes 'peer' plan, dues boost

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The American Medical Association headed for showdown votes today on the two remaining controversies of its current national convention.

One emerges from a battle recently lost with the federal government to prevent "peer review" of medical services under Medicare and Medicaid. The AMA must decide the best course for making the most of it.

The other involves increased membership dues. Unless the 156,000-member organization, in the words of its powerful board of trustees, exercises "fiscal restraint" and prunes "extraneous" activities, a dues increase will be needed.

The AMA's policy-making House of Delegates prepared to take action on the two issues after settling another big question Tuesday.

It voted Tuesday to move against what it termed a "significant problem" among physicians of narcotic dependence, alcoholism and other psychiatric disorders.

The protective system set up by the AMA could result in the loss of licenses by such doctors.

Airplane builder

By MICKEY DAVIS
Dayton Journal Herald Writer

Dayton, Ohio (AP) — The nose of Dave Duncan's airplane bumps his kitchen table.

The tail skid sits where he once had his couch. Two 14-foot wings spread over the living room floor.

The decor is a bit unusual for a townhouse apartment.

Fort almost three years now — whenever he has had the urge to work on it — Duncan has been building the single seat monoplane in his apartment.

"I've reached the point where it's just getting a little too big for the place," Duncan said of this project. "I gotta get it out of here."

He still has to mount a 65-horsepower engine and the propeller and cover the plane with 50 yards of fabric.

He plans to roll the craft out the back patio door, head for an airport, fasten the wings and be ready to take to the air.

"You never know," he said, "but I'll be staying close to the airport those first few times."

Duncan, 33, has been flying 13 years and flies weekly for an air travel club, but says there is a world of difference between the prop jets he handles for the club and the open cockpit plane he is building.

Duncan started building his plane in 1970, figuring to spend a year and a half on it.

He wrote for plans and instructions. The rest — all the parts and their assembly — was up to him. He has scoured stores for lumber, fittings and special bolts.

Duncan figures his plane will cost $1,700 when complete. A Federal Aviation Agency inspector has been around to his townhouse once to check the work.

The inspector will come back again before Duncan can roll his plant out to fly.

'Where the hormones . . .'

Does every human being have both male and female sex hormones?

Miss R. R., S. D.

Dear Miss R.:

Both male and female hormones are present in both sexes.

Estrogen is the female sex hormone. Androgen is the male sex hormone.

As the female advances into puberty and adolescence there is a slow, progressive diminution of the amount of male hormones in the blood.

Similarly, there is a reduction of the female estrogen in the male as he advances into adulthood.

Hormones, both natural and synthetic, have a complexity that staggers the imagination. They play a role in every phase of health and disease.

The way the body maintains the balance of hormones is intricate and mystifying.

WHEN any hormonal imblance is suspected, complex blood studies can now quickly reveal deficiencies and direct the path of re-establishing the hormone balance.

Many readers ask if the presence of male and female sex hormones in one person is responsible for homosexual tendies.
encies.

There may be some role that the hormones play in this alteration of male and female charasteristics. But there are an infinite number of factors in the total equation of homosexualty, both physical and psychological, besides the distribution of hormones.

Can overweight contribute to the formation of a hernia?

Mr. J. L. W., Ohio

Dear Mr. W.:

I do not know by your letter whether you refer to an inguinal hernia in the groin or to another type of hernia.

An abdominal hernia following surgery is evident by a protrusion at the site of the incision.

While marked obesity is not necessarily responsible as a cause of the hernia, certainly it plays a role in making it more pronounced.

Severe overweight imposes a burden on every organ of the body. The heart, the lungs, the liver, the spleen, the intestines, and the entire circulatory system pay a penalty for the added work imposed on them by the extra poundage.

What is the normal pulse rate?

Mr. I A. B., Ark.

Dear Mr. B.:

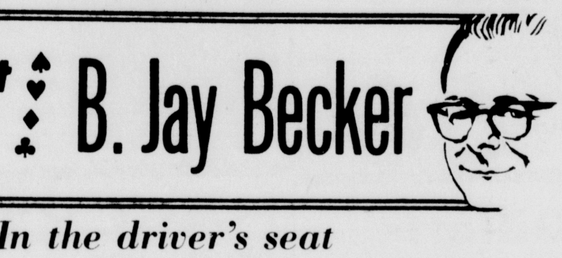

The pulse rate varies in people, depending on their age, the climate, geographic elevation, and general body condition.

In health, and under normal circumstances, a heart beat (pulse rate) is about 80 times a minute.

With physical exertion this may go up to 120 times a minute. An important index to doctors is how quickly after exertion the pulse rate returns to normal.

During sleep and inactivity, the pulse rate may go down to 50 or 60 per minute.

Opening lead - two of clubs.

In some hands declarer cannot control and bad lie of the opponents' cards and must proceed on the assumption he will be favored with reasonable breaks. But there are other hands when he can manipulate the play so as to overcome an unlucky distribution of the cards, and in such cases he should bend every effort to do so.

Take this deal, where West leads a club — South winning East's king with the ace. Declarer sees four potential losers — a spade and three diamonds — and therefore starts looking for ways and means of eliminating one of them.

One possibility, after drawing trumps, is to lead a low spade towards the queen. If East has the king, South will make two spade tricks instead of one and in that way make the contract.

Another possibility is to attack diamonds by leading low towards the jack. If the jack loses to East's king or ace, South will still have the Q-9 left and can later lead a diamond from dummy towards them in an effort to score a diamond trick.

As the cards lie, none of these methods of play would succeed and South would go down one.

Acutally, there is a way of playing the hand that guarantees the contract 100 per cent. After drawing trumps, declarer cashes the Q-9 of clubs, discarding a spade from dummy. Then he leads the ace and another spade.

These plays put him firmly in the driver's seat. Regardless of which opponent wins with the king, he is bound to return either a spade or a diamond, which automatically limits the number of diamond losers to two.

The suggested method of play completely eliminates the luck factor from the hand.

Trudeau shuffles Cabinet members

OTTAWA (AP) — Responding to last month's election setback, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau has made sweeping changes in his Cabinet, bringing in 8 new persons and shifting 10 others. Among the 11 ministers retaining their posts Monday was Foreign Secretary Mitchell Sharp. Jeanne Sauve, 50, a journalist from Montreal, was named minister of science, the first woman in the Cabinet in four years.

Trudeau said the changes reflected the lessons learned in the Oct. 30 elections when his Liberal party lost nearly 40 seats in the House of Commons, including those held by four Cabinet members. Three others did not run for re-election. The lineup in the House when it meets Jan. 4 will be 109 Liberals, 107 Conservatives, 31 New Democrats, 15 Social Credit members and two independents.

Doctor attacks AMA failures

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The American Medical Association is in trouble because of "far too much defection from our ranks" by disillusioned members, a doctor says.

Dr. Jack Schreiber of Canfield, Ohio, a delegate to the organization's biannual national convention, declared in an address Monday to the AMA's Council on Long-Range Planning (CLRP):

"An alarming number of our (AMA) members are turning to unionism, foundations, special societies, other organizations, or just folding up their tents and saying, 'The hell with it!'

'Belong to the Guard for a Day' program planned here on Dec. 9

The local Army National Guard unit, Company A, 1st Battalion, 166th Infantry, will sponsor a "Belong to the Guard for a Day" program for veterans and interested high school seniors on Dec. 9, according to 1st Sgt. Robert Goodson.

The program is aimed at prior service personnel and high school graduates between the ages of 17 and 30 Goodson said. He pointed out that no reservations are needed and those desiring to participate need only to come to the Armory, 201 S. Fayette St., between the hours of 9 and 4 p.m. Interested persons are under no obligation, may visit all day and leave whenever they wish.

The purpose of the program is two fold; one to explain the Guardsman's important state and federal missions, the training, travel, pay and other benefits; the other to attempt to boost enlistments in the National Guard ranks.

Those attending will be given an orientation and will be assigned a specific member of Company A with whom to spend the day. Most of the company's equipment will be on display, and visitors will be given an opportunity to handle rifles, radio equipment, mortars, machine guns, and trucks to learn how they work and their capabilities.

Sgt. Goodson said lunch will be served to those who wish to eat with the guardsmen, and visitors will get a chance to talk to individual members of the unit during the day.

Educational programs, service schools and military training that could prove beneficial to them in their civilian jobs will also be explained to the visitors.

Sgt. Goodson said invitations had been sent out to the senior men in 13 area high schools and also to several hundred veterans in the area.

1,915 students get TB tests in 3-week period

A total of 1,915 tests given to students in the first, seventh, tenth and twelfth grades (and students who came from other schools) in the city and Miami Trace District schools during the past three weeks.

A total of 1,159 tests were given in the Miami Trace schools Nov. 13-17 and 806 in the city schools this week. In the city, 327 received the tests at the Senior High School, 96 at Eastside, 26 at Rose Avenue, 27 at Cherry Hill, 246 in the Junior High school, 78 at Belle Aire and 6 at Sunnyside.

The annual skin testing program is sponsored jointly by the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association and the county Health Department. The program is financed by contributions to the Christmas Seal campaign and the tuberculosis and health levy.

The tests were administered by Mrs. Doris Douglass, the county tuberculosis health nurse, Mrs. Gretchen Witherspoon, Mrs. Sherry Vrettos, and Mrs. Sue Maddux, all Health Department nurses.

Clerical help was given by WSHS students Lenora Slavens and Patti Jordin; WJH students Robin Lambert, Elizabeth Brown, Beth Schaeper and Jill Schaeper; and Mrs. Arlene Thompson, Mrs. Karen Bernard and Mrs. Wanda McMurray, of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

It has been emphasized that a positive reaction to the skin tests indicates only that there are tuberculosis germs in the body. Those who have positive reactions will be referred to their family physicians.

Mrs. Douglas expects to complete the report on the skin tests given in the schools this week. Those who had positive reactions will be notified then.

Skins tests are given without charge every Friday morning at the Health Department, 129 N. Hinde St. at Market Street.

Carryout store to change hands

Miss Maxine Gilmerr,, Greenfield-Sabina Rd., is in the process of purchasing the beer and wine carryout business at 602 Clinton Ave. from Virtus Kruse and will act as the manager until the D-2 license is transferred by the Ohio Board of Liquor Control.

Miss Gilmerr said she also plans to have home cooked food for carry out and special orders. She said she expects to start this service next week. The food will be prepared in the kitchen in the rear of the building. Miss Gilmerr said her mother, Mrs. Martin Gilmerr, probably will help with the cooking.

Police chief remains suspended

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Carlisle Police Chief Larry Stamm remained suspended today after a Warren County Common Pleas jury was unable to reach a verdict in his trial for grand larceny.

Stamm and two other officers have filed suit against the Carlisle village council charging them with harrassment of the police department.

Stamm was placed on suspension by council following his arrest and indictment. He was accused of taking $600 from the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lainhart July 9 during a burglary investigation.

They charged he took the money from a cookie jar while they, accompanied by Ptl. Earl Bolen, inspected the cellar. Neither could testify to seeing the money taken or remember the exact amount.

Ptl. Bolen denied he and the chief were separated during the investigation.

The council suspension forbids Stamm's reinstatement until he is found innocent.

Warren County Prosecutor James Ruppert will leave office in January. There was no word on a new trial.

The jury was deadlocked 10-2 for acquittal, court officials said.
